

- c. Scientific developments important to national defense.
- d. Intelligence operations.
3. Confidential: Condition in question 7, sheet 8.
- a. Defense information and material, the unauthorized disclosure of which could be prejudicial to the defense interests of the Nation.
4. Confidential: Authorized handling authorized, except:
- a. Training, field, and technical manuals.
- b. Photographs, negatives, etc. of models of material.
- c. Defense procurement plans and related matters.
- d. Communications material and messages.
- e. Military maps and aerial photographs.
- f. Information received from international organizations, such as NATO, SEATO, and CENTO.
- g. Combat, combat related information.
5. Restricted data and formerly restricted as defined in Atomic Energy Act, 42 U.S.C. 2011.
- B. Department of the Navy Regulation 5510.1B and Air Force Regulation 205-1 are same as Army.
- III. Unclassified official information, DOD Directive 5200.6:
1. Records and information pertaining to individuals.
 2. Information furnished in confidence from industry, firms, organizations relating to trade secrets, bids, proposals, inventions, discoveries, etc.
 3. Information connected with any anticipated or pending litigation before Federal or State courts.
 4. Proposed plans or policy developments.
 5. Examination questions and answers to be used in training courses.
 6. Information received from other Government agencies for official use of Department of Defense.
 7. Information furnished in confidence by foreign nations to the United States.
- These regulations are implemented by the Department of Army, Regulations 345-15, Department of Navy Instruction 6570.2A, and Department of Air Force Regulation 11-30.
- 9, and 10 of DOD Directive 5200.6.)
- ments relating to proposed plans or policy development when premature disclosure would adversely affect morale, efficiency, or discipline.
4. Examination questions or answers to be used in training courses, entrance to duty, or promotion.
5. Conversations or communications between members of Department of Defense, or between such members and representatives of other agencies of the executive branch, which are merely advisory or preliminary in nature and which do not represent any final official action.
6. Permissible price latitudes for department negotiators in cost-plus-fixed-fee contract negotiation.