

IV. To construct national civil aerodromes and airports, to supervise the construction of private aerodromes and regulate their operating conditions.

V. To supervise national and private aerodromes and administer the former.

VI. To authorize buildings, installations and plantings in the areas used for aviation purposes.

VII. To authorize the construction of hangars, workshops, offices and installations inside aerodromes and airports and to specify requirements of compliance with regulatory plans and regulations.

VIII. To promote the development of civil aviation and to facilitate the establishment of aviation clubs, the training and development of civil pilots and to supervise technical and flight activities of aviation clubs.

IX. To supervise the development and operation of civil establishments of aeronautical instruction.

X. To promote and support the employment of Honduran technicians in all branches of aeronautics. With this purpose, it shall grant training scholarships and present to the Government candidates to be awarded scholarships offered by international organizations or by foreign governments for the training of technical aviation personnel.

XI. To examine and rate documents and to direct the inspection and tests of aircraft, their engines, instruments and parts, when a request is made to approve them for air navigation over national territory and to report on the origin of the license and conditions.

XII. To allocate, in agreement with the General Direction of Telecommunications, frequencies for aeronautical radiocommunications that are assigned to the various air carriers.

XIII. To investigate air accidents that occur in the country, in order to establish their causes and to reduce or eliminate the possibilities for their repetition by means of adequate regulations.

XIV. To establish signal systems and flight rules that must be observed in the Republic.

XV. To report on the establishment, modification and cancellation of air routes and airways over the national territory.

XVI. To report on requests for permits to take photographs or motion pictures in the air space over the national territory or to design charts or maps of the national territory.

XVII. To report, when so requested, on a grant, suspension or cancellation of licenses to operate air routes, in cases to which this law applies.

XVIII. To authorize special flights by aircraft in cases in which, under this law and the regulations issued thereunder, authorization from the Ministry of Development is not required.

XIX. To report to the Ministry of Development on the application of penalties for violation of this law and the regulation issued thereunder.

XX. To propose the nomination of competent persons for the delegation that should represent Honduras at all kinds of international conferences on civil aviation.