

Furthermore, it seems to me, the purposes of the Alliance for Progress would be greatly served by providing a two-way opportunity to contribute to inter-American understanding: on the one hand, our teachers would fill a vital gap in Latin American binational centers; on the other hand, their experiences in Central and South America would enrich their own knowledge, enhancing their competence in their classrooms back home.