

scribed and Southern resistance is noted. Unfortunately, the Brown case is treated without any reference to earlier Court cases; and the discussion fails to mention either the court's contention that separate facilities are inherently unequal or its use of sociological data.