

The social welfare compilations include data on total U.S. expenditures for health and medical care, public and private, over the years since 1928-29. The latest data in this series are in table 9, in which the lines representing "public expenditures" bring together those Federal, State, and local government expenditures which in table 2 are designated, "Health and medical programs," "Veterans' health and medical services," "Vendor medical payments" for public aid, "Hospital and medical benefits" for State disability insurance and workmen's compensation, and "Medical rehabilitation" in the vocational rehabilitation program.