

It makes me feel that our hearings have been very constructive. Not only that, but the operation of the Elementary-Secondary Act in general. You people, you educators, have come before us with illustrations, and have evaluated the different titles, which to my way of thinking will go a long way relieving the Congress of much criticism, because many programs have been criticized that evidence shows are operating very effectively in the country today.

I want to thank you all for coming. Thank you very much.

Mr. BREIT. Thank you.

Chairman PERKINS. I hope that it will not be the last time. I know some of you have been before the committee before, and I hope you will continue to help us in the future.

Mr. JOHNSON. Thank you.

(Whereupon, at 2:10 p.m., the committee adjourned, subject to call of the Chair.)
