This was a very quick tour through the Center with pictures. We would like to take you now on an actual tour and show you some of the facilities.

(Recess for tour: On the tour the following facilities were visited: Astronaut Training Facility, Lunar Mission and Space Exploration Facility, Mission Control Center, and the Materials Testing Laboratory.)

Mr. Low. Mr. Chairman, we have also prepared a book answering your questions. We will give a copy to Mr. Wilson and send the rest to Washington.

Before introducing Colonel Aldrin, I would like to cover one item that I forgot to mention this morning concerning visitors to MSC. In the course of a year we have 650,000 visitors to the Center, nearly twice as many as any other NASA center. We have an open house every Sunday. Three years ago we decided to open the Center up for four Sundays in a row, but since people kept on coming, we continued the practice. We now average about 10,000 people every Sunday. During the open house we show displays in the auditorium, including
