

55.

Women more than men and Negroes more than whites are likely to have kept in touch with someone from the center. Large urban areas, probably because of geographic compactness, also have more people who kept in touch with others from the center.

Current Status

Each was then asked what they were currently doing: