

REFERENCES

The following list includes publications generated by the Fairbanks North Star Borough Impact Information Center and Fairbanks Town and Village Association for Development Inc. Rural Impact Information Program. It is not intended as a complete bibliography of pipeline impact. Copies of all these publications are held by the Huntly Social and Economic Impact Monitoring Project, University of Waikato, Hamilton, New Zealand.

A.) Impact Information Center:

Fairbanks North Star Borough: Pipeline Impact Information Center Reports Nos. 1-29, July 1974 - July 1976.

Fairbanks North Star Borough: Pipeline Impact Information Center Special Reports:

1. Mim Dixon and Georgina Herron: Minority Hire and Alaska Hire on the Pipeline. February 1975.
2. Mim Dixon: Senior Citizens: the Effects of Pipeline Construction on Older Persons Living in Fairbanks. June 1975.
3. Mim Dixon et al.: Questions and Answers about the Cost of Living in Fairbanks. December 1975.
4. Sue Fison: Mobile Home Living in Fairbanks. September 1976.

Mim Dixon: Pipeline Impact, Culture Change in Modern Complex Society. Paper presented at American Anthropological Association 74th Annual Meeting, San Francisco, December 1975.

[Mim Dixon]: Fairbanks North Star Borough Impact Information Center: A Case History. [March 1976].

Kate Wedemeyer: Impact Information Center Evaluation. March 1976.