

say, or does anything else in an irrational manner or that cannot be defended before his colleagues, his peers, on the staff.

We have also continued, as we have in the past, a very careful monitoring of our program throughout the agency. As you know, we have a specific monitoring of all drug purchases at all hospitals with monthly reports into the central office and a quarterly complete monitoring on an agencywide basis. So these things, we think, have brought about considerable improvement.

Then we have taken part in a number of other educational ventures which I will leave for later in case you wish to ask about them.

(Prepared statement follows:)