

COMPETITIVE PROBLEMS IN THE DRUG INDUSTRY 10579

	C o n t e n t s	P a g e
DIGEST		1
CHAPTER
1	INTRODUCTION	5
	Past efforts to improve Federal management of medical material	7
2	GREATER COOPERATION AND COORDINATION WOULD RESULT IN SIGNIFICANT SAVINGS IN PROCURING DRUGS	8
	DSA-VA supply agreement	8
	Development of requirements data for procurement	9
	Possible savings through joint procurement	9
	Need to promote interagency transactions at the user level	10
	Conclusions	12
	Recommendations	13
	Agency comments and GAO evaluation	14
3	BENEFITS OF SPECIFICATIONS AND CENTRAL MANAGEMENT IN PROCURING PRESCRIPTION DRUGS	17
	Developing specifications	17
	Availability and use of specifications	18
	Coordination potential in developing specifications	20
	Need to revise DOD policy for adopting items for central management	20
	Conclusions	21
	Recommendations	22
	Agency comments and GAO evaluation	22
4	UNIFORM REPORTING AND MORE EFFECTIVE USE OF RELATED REPORTS WOULD IMPROVE SELECTION OF ITEMS FOR CENTRAL MANAGEMENT	24
	Military department reports	24
	VA reports	25
	Need for standardized coding system	27
	Conclusions	28
	Recommendations	28
	Agency comments	29