

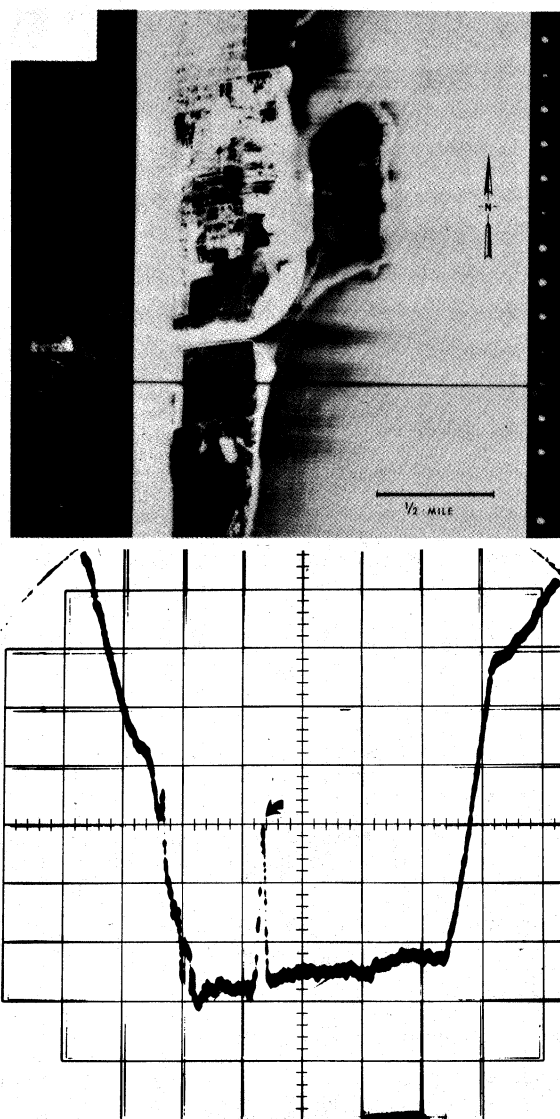

FIGURE 30.—Infrared imagery of a portion of Texas City showing thermal effluents.

Upper : Part of aerial infrared photograph showing two thermal effluents (white).

Black line shows location where temperature profile in lower picture was made.

Lower : Typical temperature profile obtained from infrared photograph. Black line represents temperature across the picture above. Note sharp spike at location of thermal effluent.