

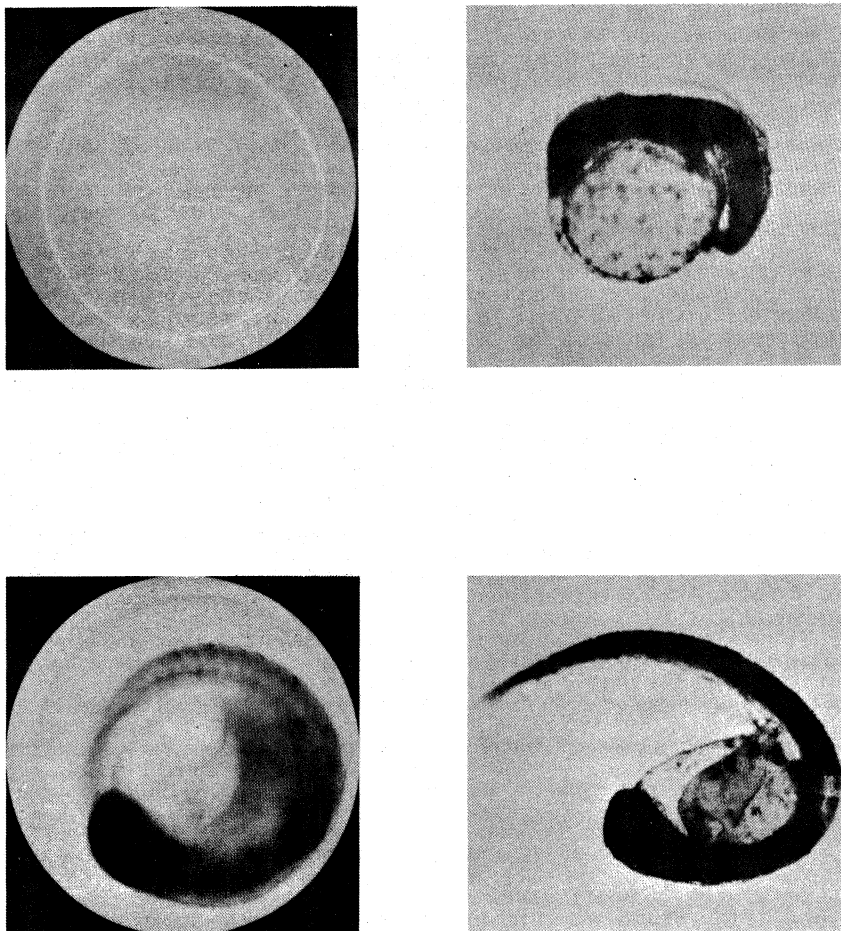

FIGURE 31.—Four observed stages of development of English sole eggs after about seven days' incubation in test and control solutions. Upper left: Dead egg. No apparent embryonic development. Upper right: Developing egg. Limited embryonic development. Lower left: Developing egg. Embryonic development nearly complete. Lower right: Transitional fry. Just after hatching. Organism has not yet straightened.