

TABLE XII.—World Weather Watch (WWW)—While certain aspects of this program are now in effect, most of them are still being planned

Purpose	International organization		U.S. participation
	Sponsorship and participating bodies	Approximate annual budget	NAS-NRC	U.S. Government	Budget
To develop a greatly improved and modernized international capability for meteorological observations, communications, data analysis and processing; to incorporate new technology of proved value into the international operational functions of the World Weather Watch.	The World Meteorological Organization and member states. The Secretary General is D. A. Davis. This year's Chairman of the Advisory Committee on the WWW is K. Y. Kondratiev, Institute of Chemical Physics, Moscow.	Approximately $500,000 in WMO funds.		Interagency Committee for International Meteorological Programs. The Chairman is Dr. J. Herbert Hollomon, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Science and Technology. Other participating agencies are DOD, FAA, NASA, NSF, and State.	Budget estimates are now being established.

NOTE.—For further information, contact Dr. R. E. Hallgren, ESSA Headquarters, Washington Science Center.