

Mr. CONABLE. I have one other comment.

Your open mind on this legislation has been widely heralded and universally acclaimed. I trust all the concern with the details of enactment does not constitute any foreclosing of your options in any way.

The CHAIRMAN. No, I am just trying to expedite the consideration of it.

Without objection the committee will adjourn on this subject matter and reconvene at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, the 21st of August.

(Whereupon, at 5:40 p.m., the committee adjourned, to reconvene at 10 a.m., Monday, August 21, 1967.)
