

At the 'closing' of the sale, when clear title is turned over to the buyer, along with other documents, including deed papers, showing taxes paid, etc., Federal Revenue stamps are affixed to the documents. Stamps indicating more than the sale price may be put on.