

I went by this location the other day and I noticed they were putting guardrails around, but it took them 11 months to do it.

They did not get around to doing it on this one—or that one. Look at the many targets you have, and with a tapered curb you can ride up

