

from it. Now, the average guy will not hit the tree. This guy went to the left, knocked down a light pole and ran into the guardrail. That is my car, on the grass. I do not really know what happened to him, but this is the 10'' by 10'' pole he knocked down.

If that tree was not there all he had to do was continue on his way and probably would have slowed down. But he was forced back on the highway. Under certain conditions, he could have caused a three- or a four-car accident.

Today on our new planting on Interstate highways, we are planting these trees just about where this one is and we have not learned a lesson.

Here, you can see a tire track where somebody ran off the road and just skinned some trees.

