

with the guardrail and these are the ones that I told you about. I counted hundreds of them hit every year; they are constantly being knocked down.

These have been knocked down; they have temporary bases.

