

This is brand new work off the project. This is identified with the south expressway running out to the airport. Came in past this and picked up these pictures at that time. So today, even though this is still under construction, this is what we have for light pole placement on that project, which is part of the Interstate System, also.

