

do afford some protection for these signs, unlike the ones that we saw in Montana.

Mr. PRISK. That is a fair statement.

The merging traffic sign used on the Georgia project mounted on a high pair of channels.

