

Continuing in Utah you see this situation, the typical exit sign installed at this point. Clearly this is the kind of place where the breakaway design has its best application. With the breakaway sign, I dare say the entire area could be cleared up of this hardware, as the British call it; namely, the guardrail, posts. All these could be taken out.

