

Here is the opposite approach coming onto the Orange Street connection. You see the exit sign in the distance.

You move up on this one and you come on into the gore here. You have conditions in this gore that are tied up with what we were talking about earlier today, about where there are twin bridges.

