

Also in Montana, we find this desirable cutoff culvert, which fits in with the slope profile.

Here is another view of a drainage pipe extending out the side, also in Montana, where there is some hazard involved. It's very close to the roadway.

Mr. CONSTANDY. If that pipe had been extended, could not the slope have been brought back farther and that hazard been removed?

Mr. PRISK. It could have been; yes, sir.

