our options are—how much we are going to lose—how much is down the drain now and will not be retrieved unless we take steps to go into the whole project and to incorporate those lands, those 8,913 acres on which tile has been installed and so forth. I subscribe to the response that you made, insofar as Senator Simpson's testimony is concerned. I think it was broadly generalized testimony. And obviously it could not deal specifically with separate sections of the project. I share your regard in that respect.
