

TABLE G.—DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AND OFFICE OF EMERGENCY PLANNING FORECAST OF STEEL REQUIREMENTS BY STEEL PRODUCT AND CURRENT SHARE OF ALL STEEL INDUSTRY SHIPMENT

	1960 ¹ (tons)										1965 ¹ (tons)										1966 ¹ (tons)										1967 ¹ (tons)										1968 ¹ * (tons)										O.E.P. ² projection (tons)		Defense share of estimated total steel industry shipments					O.E.P. projection
Carbon:

*Revised: April 1968.

¹ Source: Department of Defense.² Source: Product mix estimated from Office of Emergency Planning's projection of total defense steel requirements during conventional nonnuclear war in 1969.