Product	Type of Restriction	Estimated Impact on U.S. Trade	Trade Agreement Status	Remarks
Non-Agricultural Quantitative Restrictions
All permissible imports	Import licensing	Significant, groups too broad to permit trade summary	Legal under GATT Article XVIII, affects bound items	Licenses are required for all imports. Products for importation categorized: (1) "liberation list" - items for which licenses are granted freely and (2) "quota list" - items for which specific quotas are established. Items not on either list are not ordinarily importable. Special consideration is given items to be traded with bilateral agreement countries.
Some chemicals, paints, and pharmaceuticals; explosives; some photographic equipment; plastics and certain rubber goods; some wood, paper and textile products; some glass products and most manufactures of copper, aluminum and zinc; certain tools; some tractors and trucks, trailers, and motorcycles; planes for spraying; clocks and watches; musical instruments; tape recorders and tape; certain scientific and technical instruments; many types of industrial, agricultural, and electrical machinery and apparatus; office machines, certain iron and steel products; certain, vegetable oils; asbestos; and certain petroleum products.	Quotas	Significant, groups too broad to permit trade summary	Legal under GATT Article XVIII, affects bound items	Licenses are required for all imports. The quota list, as distinct from the liberation list, establishes fixed monetary global quotas for the affected items for each 6-months licensing period to be distributed among commercial importers and/or industrialists.
