organizational and functional charts, statistical information on employment;

- (b) arrange for information which takes more than usual time to complete, e.g., equal employment opportunity, status of women;
- (c) arrange for or actually administer questionnaires; and
- (d) set time for opening conferences.
- (3) Review and analysis of available material concerning the establishment to be inspected, e.g.,
 - (a) previous inspection reports and compliance file;
 - (b) organization charts, mission and function statements, position descriptions, etc.;
 - (c) correspondence concerning the parent agency or field installations;
 - (d) complaint file and "leads" file;
 - (e) available material prepared for the Commission on such matters as training and equal employment opportunity;
 - (f) requests for waivers of CSC provisions;
 - (g) CSC Board audit reports; and
 - (h) training agreements;
- (4) Establishment of a work plan.
 - (a) A work plan, based on comprehensive and realistic planning, and combining specificity and concreteness with leeway for change, should be developed for each inspection. Such a work plan will complement planning efforts and add to the effectiveness of onsite activities by:
 - Assuring a clear understanding by each inspector of objectives, approaches, roles, expectations and agency background.
 - 2 Giving inspectors a framework for effective individual and group effort, e.g.,
 - a guidelines which provide for conformity in certain matters - kinds of interviews, matters to be inspected in depth - to save the time of inspectors and facilitate team activities, and
 - b a schedule which allows sufficient time for making full use of all inspection techniques and establishing an effective team working relationship.