

1 approval of the governing body of the native group (or the 2 trustee). The contract may cover all or a portion of the lands
3 of the native group, shall be terminable upon reasonable 4 notice by either party, and shall provide for the terms of 5 management by reference to law or regulation or otherwise.

6 § 222. Conveyance, release, and redistribution of land selec-
7 tion rights

8 Any native group may release all or any part of its 9 authority to make selections to the Commission, which shall 10 redistribute such authority under the standards set forth in 11 section 219, and authority so released shall not be deemed 12 to have been received by such native group or to have been 13 of value to it.

14 Any native group may convey all or any part of the 15 authority to make selections to the State of Alaska in con-
16 sideration of land conveyed by the State to such native
17 group or, with the approval of the Commission, for other 18 consideration.

19 Any native group may convey all or any part of its 20 authority to make selections to any other native group, native
21 regional corporation, and statewide native corporation under 22 such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe.

23 Any selections unused by any native group twenty-five 24 years after the certification of the final roll shall be subject