

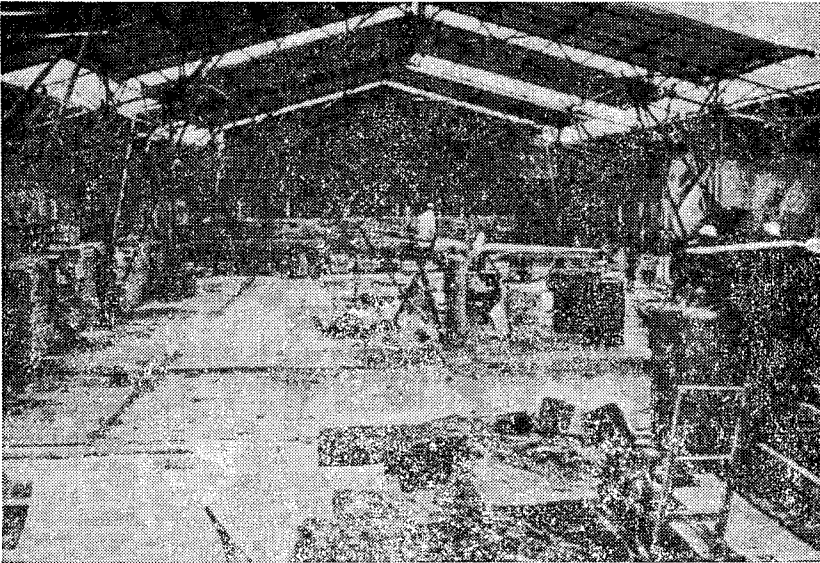

FIGURE 20

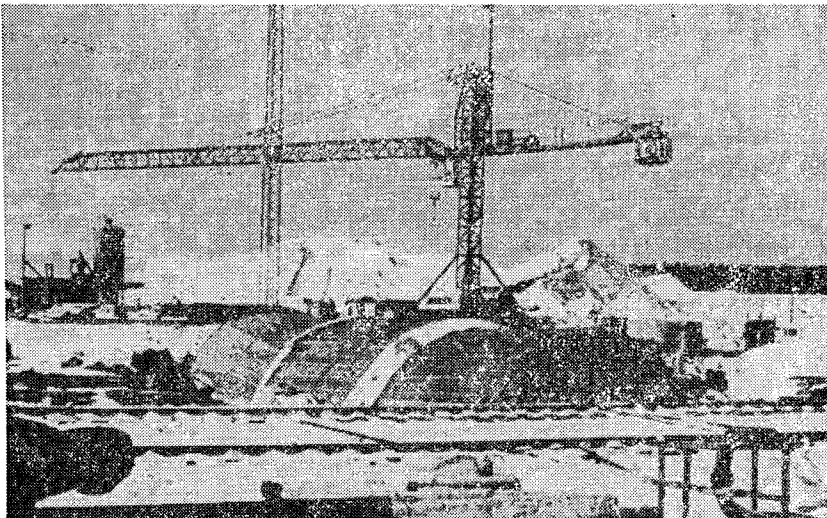

FIGURE 21

Mr. NAUMANN. It would be interesting for the chairman and members to see the number of places in the study in the answers from State highway departments, where they would permit the operations on substructures during the winter months, because ordinarily the substructure starts in a footing or excavation in an area you can heat. And in most cases you will note that the departments then preclude construc-