

This is one of the series of bulletins on better building practice prepared by the Division of Building Research, National Research Council, as part of its service to the construction industry of Canada; it deals with and has been prepared by C. R. Crocker and D. C. Tibbetts of the Construction Section of D.B.R., with the valued assistance of many members of the construction industry experienced in winter work.

WINTER CONSTRUCTION