

as Hospital staff from the forensic services discuss legal and psychiatric issues of the offender-group of patients.

6. Community Psychiatry.—Beryce MacLennan, Ph. D., Chief of the Consultation and Community Liaison Section-Mental Health Studies Center and Roger Peele, M.D., Chief of Service, William A. White Division.

Principles, literature, and applications of community psychiatry.

7. Child Psychopathology.—Child Psychiatrist.

Review of pathology from infancy through adolescence—National Institute of Mental Health Staff, and guests.

Active clinical rounds and conferences are conducted in treatment areas during both years with outside consultants and training staff.

The Third Year Psychiatric Residency Program

The third year of residency training will be spent largely at the Mental Health Studies Center of the National Institute of Mental Health. The resident will have a varied experience with treatment teams of the Mental Health Studies Center in providing consultation in the community and evaluating and treating outpatients, including adolescents and family groups, marriage problems, etc.

Experience at the Center will include individual supervision, group reviews of video tapes of patient interviews, and seminar discussions with the staff of the Center.

The residents will also be assigned to one of four children's services in the Washington, D.C. area for one day per week experience in child psychiatry. These placements will include appropriate conferences.

Opportunities for elective work in other facilities of the National Institute of Mental Health are planned.

Third Year Conferences

1. Research.—Thomas D. Reynolds, M. D., Program Director, Experimental Psychiatry.

Directed towards learning how to approach the psychiatric research literature in a critical way.

2. Special Issues in Psychiatry.—Paul Chodoff, M.D., Teaching Analyst, Washington Psychoanalytic Institute.

Discussions of a variety of topics, such as: private practice, hypnosis, family therapy, etc., with distinguished guests.

3. Psychotherapy.¹—Oscar Legault, M.D., Teaching Analyst, Washington Psychoanalytic Institute.

Literature and clinical material on theory and practice of individual psychotherapy.

4. Case Conference.—Harvey Steinberg, M.D., Training Officer—Psychiatry. Group discussion of individual patients in current treatment with residents.

5. Evaluation and Disposition Conference.—William Polk, M.D., Director of Training, Mental Health Studies Center.

Review of the techniques of the evaluative process with clinical examples drawn from patients seen at the Mental Health Studies Center.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

[Following are the proposed amendments of the D.C. Medical Society, the Medico-Chirurgical Society, D.C., the Washington Psychiatric Society, and the Washington Psychoanalytic Society, as submitted to the Committee]

PROPOSED AMENDED H.R. 10407, SUBMITTED AT THE REQUEST OF SUBCOMMITTEE NO. 5, COMMITTEE ON THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, BY THE D.C. MEDICAL SOCIETY, MEDICO-CHIRURGICAL SOCIETY, D.C., WASHINGTON PSYCHIATRIC SOCIETY AND WASHINGTON PSYCHOANALYTIC SOCIETY

A BILL To define and regulate the practice of psychology in the District of Columbia

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as the "Practice of Psychology Act."

¹ Because present intermediate residents did not have this course, it will be available for third year residents as well.