2 THE COURT: All right. Are we ready to 3 proceed?

4 MR. MORAN: Your Honor, if I may, Miss Hirsch
5 had subpoenaed Dorothy Kiviat, who is the deputy 6 municipal clerk, to be here this morning; however, 7 in court on Friday she and I were able to reach a 8 stipulation as to what Miss -- Mrs. Kiviat's testi-
9 mony would be, and I would like to put that stipula-10 tion on the record at this point, together with 11 stipulations with regard to each of the other plain-12 tiffs that are seeking builder's remedies, and 13 then make a motion addressed to the Court based on 14 those stipulations.

15 THE COURT: All right.

16 MR. MORAN: With regard to Miss Kiviat's
17 testimony, Your Honor has already heard the testi-
18 mony of Mayor Danser with respect to the January 6th 19 letter from Miss Hirsch's office. It was -- it is 20 stipulated that if Miss Kiviat were to testify, that 21 her testimony would be that she received a letter 22 delivered by messenger from Miss Hirsch's office, 23 and that she signed a receipt for the receipt of that 24 letter, and that the receipt indicated that in the 25 letter was contained: A, the January 6th letter; B,

1 the proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance -- 2 those two documents of which -- have already been 3 marked in evidence in this case, and Your Honor has 4 them; and C, a copy of plans for the proposed 5 development by Toll Brothers.

6 Miss Kiviat would also testify that she has 7 no recollection of the plans actually being in the 8 envelope, despite the fact that she signed a receipt 9 for them, and that a search of her records has failed 10 to produce a copy of those plans; and that she copied 11 the documents that were in the envelope and delivered 12 them to the members of the Township Committee and 13 also to the Township attorney and to the Township
14 engineer, which is part of her normal distribution 15 list on materials of that nature.

16 I think that's the essence of the stipulation, 17 unless Miss Hirsch has something that she wants to 18 add or some correction to make.

19 MISS HIRSCH: No, just the cover letter did 20 indicate also that master plan amendments were in-21 cluded. And when she marked, "Received," that was 22 one of the documents indicated.

23 MR. MORAN: That's correct, Your Honor. Now,
24 with regard to the plaintiff Zirinsky, we have a 25 stipulation which I would like to read into the

1 record, Your Honor, and this one -- this stipulation
2 has been reduced to writing.

3 It reads as follows: "In 1982, Laurence 4 Zirinsky, also trading as East Shore Associates, Inc., 5 began to obtain options on lands in Cranbury Township
6 west of the Village.

7 "In Late March 1983, Mr. Zirinsky convened a
8 meeting at the Princeton office of his Engineers/9 Planners CUH2A, with Mayor Alan Danser and the 10 Township planner, Tom March, to urge that the Town-
11 ship Land Use Plan which was then under considera-12 tion by the Township Committee be amended to allow 13 for office-research zoning in the western part of 14 the Township encompassing his optioned land.

15 "The mayor and Mr. March both indicated that 16 there was little hope of any such change but, none-
17 theless, told Mr. Zirinsky and his representatives 18 that they could apply to the Township Planning Board."

19 Then, Your Honor, to become part of the 20 record, there is a series of six letters between 21 Mr. Zirinsky's then attorney and the Planning Board, 22 which will be marked in evidence. Unfortunately,
23 due to a confusion between Mr. Herbert and myself, 24 they are not here this morning, and can be provided;
25 however, I think that we can summarize.

1 The gist of those letters is that Mr. Zirinsky
2 applied to be put on the agenda of the Planning 3 Board. He was initially put on the agenda by the 4 secretary of the Planning Board. He was then in-5 formed that it was -- he was not going to be on the 6 agenda because of the fact that the Planning Board 7 did not want to consider his request at that point 8 in time, because they were in the process of re-9 porting and recommending the Township zoning ordinance, 10 the new zoning ordinance, to the Township Committee 11 for adoption, and felt that it would be more ap-12 propriate to hear him after the Township Committee 13 had an opportunity to act on that ordinance.

14 During the meeting, and in the correspondence, 15 the plaintiff did not state he sought approval for 16 housing. At no time prior to suit being filed by 17 Mr. Zirinsky on December 20th, 1983, did he or any 18 of his representatives mention the institution of 19 legal action against the Township. Other than the 20 above correspondence and the meeting, no other 21 proposals were made to the Township.

22 That's the stipulation with regard to Zirinsky.

23 MR. HERBERT: Your Honor --

24 THE COURT: Do you have a copy of that for 25 me?

1 MR. HERBERT: Yes, I do, Your Honor.

2 MR. MORAN: Yes, we do.

3 MR. HERBERT: Unfortunately, the correspondence
4 that's alluded to, as Mr. Moran indicated, is not 5 with us, and I think we have agreed that the cor-
6 respondence will be sent today by Mr. Moran's office
7 to Your Honor and, of course, supplied to counsel.

8 I think it's really, after -- I have just 9 read the Urban League's brief, and I think it's sort 10 of tragic that they did not have the benefit of 11 reading this stipulation and the correspondence that 12 we are alluding to prior to that time. The only -- 13 prior to this time.

14 The only thing I would add, Mr. Moran
15 accurately represents what those letters were. I 16 believe, however, that it was not left by the 17 Planning Board that Mr. Zirinsky could reapply at a 18 more appropriate time after the adoption of the 19 zoning ordinance. I think Your Honor can look at 20 the letters. I believe the sense was that there 21 was a -- the zoning ordinance was then being con-22 sidered, and we are talking about letters from 23 April 4th, '83 down to June 27th, '83.

24 And the last letter, June 27th, '83, basical-
25 ly said: We are not going to consider your proposal

1 at this time, because of the progress, the intended
2 review of the Land Use Ordinance.

3 And I believe this -- that's --

4 MR. MORAN: I believe that Mr. Zirnisky or 5 Mr. Herbert's representation is correct, Your Honor; 6 but in any event, the letters will speak for them-7 selves.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. MORAN: With regard to the plaintiff
10 Cranbury Land Company, Your Honor has already 11 received a group of letters that Mr. Blagaler had 12 provided to you, and we stipulate as to the authenti-13 city of those letters.

14 In addition to that, Your Honor should be 15 aware of the fact that there were two separate 16 pieces of litigation that were instituted by the 17 owners of that land during the time period 1969
18 through 1976.

19 The first of those was entitled Cranbury Land
20 Company vs. Township of Cranbury, and that had to do 21 with the validity of an eighteen-month building 22 moratorium which the Township had imposed. That 23 case was heard in the trial court. The decision was 24 appealed.

25 The Appellate Division heard the oral argument on appeal four days after the expiration date of the moratorium, ruled that it was moot and, therefore, the whole issue became moot.

The second case was entitled, Hillbury Joint Venture vs. the Township of Cranbury. And despite the fact that the plaintiff had a different name, it involved the same land. And in that case, the applicant had requested the Township Committee to rezone property and to adopt a resolution of need to qualify the property for housing financing, agency financing.

The Township had refused to do both, and the plaintiff appealed. On the appeal, the Trial Court ruled in favor of the Township on the issue of the necessity of adopting the resolution of need, and also on the question of whether or not the plaintiff was required to exhaust its administrative remedies by applying for specific relief, either by way of a variance, to the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

An appeal was taken; and, subsequent to the filing of the appeal by the plaintiff, this litigation was started, the Urban League litigation was started.

Apparently, the plaintiff then abandoned the appeal; and I understand, and Mr. Bisgaler has

PENGAD CO., BAYONNE, N.J. 07002 - FORM 2046

1 represented to me, and I have no reason to doubt 2 it, that the reason they abandoned the appeal is 3 that they wanted to see what would happen as a 4 result of the ruling in this case, since they felt 5 that the issues were very similar.

6 That's substantially it on that. There was 7 no formal activity with regard to this piece of 8 property since the letter from my law partner, who 9 was then the Township attorney, which is the last 10 of the letters that you have in 1976, which was 11 after Judge Furman's opinion, the initial opinion 12 in the Urban League case.

13 With regard to the plaintiff Garfield, there 14 is a stipulation which we have reached to be read 15 into the record, but Mr. Warren will do that.

16 MR. BISGAIER: Your Honor, perhaps before 17 Mr. Garfield -- Mr. Warren does that, not to have 18 the record bounce back and forth, I'd just like to 19 add one thing, which is that the representation that 20 was made to Mr. Moran -- and I believe he accepts 21 that representation, that were there testimony here 22 today, that the reason for no further action being 23 taken subsequent to the receipt of Mr. Huff's letter 24 was on the belief that there was -- nothing fruit-25 ful could be gained by such action pending the

1 resolution by the Supreme Court and the rezoning 2 by the municipality subsequent to that.

3 I also have -- we haven't marked this 4 document. It hasn't been admitted into evidence.
5 I know Your Honor has a copy by consent of both 6 parties. Perhaps it should be marked and admitted 7 into evidence.

8 MR. NORAN: Is that the series of letters?

9 MR. BISGAIER: Yes.

10 MR. NORAN: Yes. I have no objection to 11 that. And with regard to Mr. Bisgaier's representa-
12 tion, I would have no basis to correct any testimony 13 that he presented on that question.

14 THE COURT: All right. Let's mark this set 15 of correspondence relating to the stipulation for 16 Cranbury Land and Monroe Development as FMD-3.

17 (Whereupon the series of correspondence was 18 marked as Exhibit FMD-3 in evidence.)

19 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Warren?

20 MR. WARREN: As of late, Your Honor knows
21 Garfield & Company is not subject to the motion
22 which Cranbury is bringing, no affirmative defenses 23 with respect to -- no affirmative defenses with 24 respect to exhaustion of remedies or standing having 25 been raised in Cranbury's answer.

1 But I believe Your Honor suggested that it
2 would be useful to the Court in order to rule on 3 the other motions to have an overall view as to 4 what all of the builders did in this area; and, as 5 a result, Mr. Moran and I have entered into the 6 following stipulation.

7 On January 25th, 1983, a representative of 8 Garfield & Company made a presentation to the Cran-9 bury Township Committee at a public hearing on the 10 proposed zoning ordinance which was subsequently 11 adopted and is challenged in this litigation.

12 He informed the Township Committee that 13 Garfield & Company was willing and able to develop 14 its property in Cranbury for Mount Laurel housing 15 as contemplated by the proposed zoning ordinance;
16 however, such development would be impossible inter 17 alia in light of the density provisions and transfer 18 credit purchase requirements contained in the pro-19 posed ordinance.

20 Notwithstanding this presentation by Garfield &
21 Company, the Cranbury Township Committee adopted
22 the proposed zoning ordinance without modifying 23 the density provisions or the transfer development
24 credit purchase requirements affecting Garfield &
25 Company's property, or any of the other restrictions

1 on development in the FD-HD zone. Garfield & Company 2 then filed this action, within forty-five days of 3 the adoption of the challenged zoning ordinance.

4 Your Honor, if it would be useful to you,
5 we can reduce that to writing and submit it.

6 THE COURT: Let's do that.

7 MR. MORAN: The only thing noted, Your Honor,
8 and I didn't pick it up before, is that the date --
9 the very first sentence there is incorrect. It 10 should be July the 25th, not January the 25th.

11 MR. WARREN: I'm sorry. I misspoke myself.
12 I meant to say July 25th.

13 THE COURT: You want to present a legal 14 argument with respect to this issue while you're 15 at it?

16 MR. MORAN: Yes, I would like to, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Fine.

18 MR. MORAN: Unfortunately, Your Honor, some 19 of the procedural requirements surrounding the 20 entitlement to builder's remedy in Mount Laurel, 21 the way I see it, are or could be clearer in the 22 Mount Laurel II decision.

23 Basically, there are two sections of the 24 opinion which speak of the question of builder's 25 remedy in the abstract, and then there are several

1 sections which apply or attempt to apply that in 2 specific cases.

3 My comments will be geared primarily to the 4 two sections which deal with it as a question of 5 law rather than with specific reference to the 6 individual cases which were remanded in Mount Laurel 7 II.

8 The main portion of the opinion which deals 9 with it clearly raises certain things that must be 10 established. One is good faith, and the other is 11 whether or not the municipality -- whether or not 12 there are sound environmental or planning concerns 13 which were -- denied the builder the right to relief.
14 And third seems to be tied into the question of 15 whether or not the builder has attempted to use
16 Mount Laurel as a club somehow, the so-called threat 17 part of the opinion.

18 The interesting part of this is that although 19 that may relate back to good faith, there is no way 20 of tying that part of the opinion in with all of the 21 language which is contained in the summary part of 22 the opinion earlier, which seems to establish five 23 criteria rather than four mentioned later on for 24 obtaining a builder's remedy.

25 Basically, that is that the builder have

1 proposed something specific to the Township; two,
2 that what he has proposed does include a substantial 3 amount of low and moderate income housing; three, 4 that the Town has been ordered to rezone by the 5 Court and has failed to do so in acceptable fashion; 6 or three -- rather, four is that there are no -- and 7 this is the environmental concerns question previous-8 ly mentioned; and the fifth one has to do again with, 9 as I see it, an overall question of good faith.

10 It seems to me that while the Court is en-11 couraging builder's remedies, that to take the 12 position that anybody can simply file a suit without 13 having done anything further than saying the Township
14 zoning ordinance does not comply with Mount Laurel II, 15 and I intend to build Mount Laurel housing, there-16 fore, let me do what I propose to do, without the 17 necessity of giving the municipality an opportunity 18 to react, would be to create the tremendous opportunity 19 for abuse of what the Court was trying to do.

20 And I submit that that is a danger in Mount 21 Laurel II which the Court was mindful of, but which 22 this Court and other Courts which are interpreting 23 it have to be careful to avoid, and that is, opening 24 the door to abuse of the doctrine.

25 Now, having said that, I'd like to address

1 each of the plaintiff builders in this case indi-2 vidually, because of the fact that I think that the 3 facts are substantially different with regard to 4 each one, and the application of the law to them 5 may result -- although I don't think results in any 6 difference with regard to them, the Court's thinking 7 in it may result in some different approach.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Before you get to that, 9 let me just be clear where in the opinion you feel 10 this issue is addressed as to the threat and as to 11 good faith.

12 MR. MORAN: With regard to the question of 13 the threat, I am referring to the entire section 14 entitled, Builder's Remedy, beginning on page -- at 15 the top of page 279 of the Opinion and ending at

17 I think that that also has to be read in 18 context with the short paragraph immediately pre-
19 ceding it, entitled, Judicial Remedies, which talks 20 about what has to happen in order to trigger certain 21 of these remedies, without reference to the specific 22 remedies which are mentioned later on.

23 With regard to the five criteria that I 24 mentioned in the summary portion of the Opinion, if 25 I may just have a moment, I believe that that is in

1 the paragraph No. 8 on page 218 of the Opinion.
2 Although the paragraph is short, I believe that 3 there are clearly five criteria that are delineated 4 there for the granting of a builder's remedy.

5 Your Honor has addressed the question pre-6 viously of the fact that that is only the summary
7 portion of the Opinion, and all of these criteria 8 are not specifically delineated later on in the 9 Opinion; however, I do think that we can't ignore 10 that summary portion of the Opinion either, particular-11 ly in light of the fact that what the Court has done 12 is abrogating a long-standing rule that it has 13 adopted in saying now something that was only done 14 very rarely before is going to be done, is going to 15 be freely granted.

16 THE COURT: Do you see the words "good faith"
17 there or its equivalent used elsewhere in the Opinion 18 other than at 218?

19 MR. MORAN: No, sir, I do not.

20 THE COURT: Do you think it might be equated 21 to something else they said? What I am saying is, 22 if it's in the summary, I assume the Court must be 23 summarizing something else they're about to say, 24 and they have used the word, "good faith."

25 So do you find that good faith equivalent to 1 some other language later on in the Opinion?

2 MR. MORAN: My own opinion is that good faith
3 ties into two things, Your Honor. It ties into A,
4 the fact that a developer has proposed something 5 specific to the municipality, and with the intent 6 of actually building it; and secondly, that he is 7 not using Mount Laurel as a club, which is referred 8 to later on in the Opinion.

9 I think that's the only possible way that 10 you can read the good faith requirement.

11 THE COURT: Yeah. Well, on page 280 and 281, 12 there's first a threat language, in the paragraph 13 starting with No. 66; and then paragraph starting 14 69, I suppose could be a good-faith language as 15 well.

16 But it says: We emphasize that our decision 17 to expand builder's remedies should not be viewed 18 as a license for unnecessary litigation.

19 Both of those could be put in the category
20 of good faith, I guess. Okay. Fine.

21 MR. MORAN: With regard -- I'm going to take 22 plaintiffs in the reverse order of the order in 23 which they filed their complaints, if that's all 24 right with the Court, which means that we would 25 start with Toll Brothers.

Your Honor has seen the letter dated January 6th, which was addressed to the Township, and the one enclosure. There is a question as to whether or not the other enclosure was there. I do not think that that is critical to the Township's argument on this question at all.

The argument here is addressed, is really addressed to good faith in the context of having proposed something in good faith in the hope that it would be built, and also with regard to the question of using Mount Laurel litigation as a club.

Your Honor has stated for the record that you found the tone of that letter offensive. The Township also found the tone of the letter offensive, in light of the fact that it was already defending four other Mount Laurel lawsuits, which obviously must have been known to the plaintiff in this case, or at least to his attorney; the fact that the original trial date of those matters was approximately two months away from the date on which the letter was addressed to the Township; and then the tone of the letter itself, which basically made five references to the fact in the letter that if we didn't do what the plaintiff asked us to do, he was going to sue us.

1 The last reference contained in the letter 2 not only indicated that they were going to sue, but 3 basically said that if we sue you, the Court may 4 very well require you to do more, although it was 5 stated in negative terms. You may get hit harder 6 than what we are asking you to do.

7 And it seems to me that while clear there 8 was Mount Laurel housing being proposed in the 9 letter, at least that's what the letter said on its 10 face, that to use that kind of a technique, where 11 you come in and say: Do this within thirty days; 12 if you don't do it within thirty days, you're -- we 13 are going to sue, it's going to be a waste of time 14 for you to defend this kind of litigation, because 15 we know what we're talking about, we have had a lot 16 of experience doing it, and believe me, your town 17 is in trouble; and not only that, if you don't do 18 what we want, the Court is very likely to hit you
19 harder than we are asking for -- now, I ask you -- 20 and Your Honor has had many years' experience as a 21 municipal attorney, I know -- how a municipality is 22 going to view that.

23 It seems to me that somebody that delivers
24 that kind of a letter to a municipality has to know
25 and anticipate that that isn't designed as a good-faith

1 bargaining tool. This is designed to get the 2 municipality mad at you right off the bat.

3 And if you're going to get -- if you're 4 going to approach a municipality in good faith, 5 it seems to me the one thing you try and do is walk 6 in with your arms open and say: Hey, let's sit 7 down and talk about this, rather than say: I'm 8 going to hit you over the head with a club if you 9 don't do what I'm asking you to do.

10 And the fact that they're proposing Mount 11 Laurel housing rather than something else should not 12 be allowed to get the builder around this good-faith 13 kind of a situation.

14 It seems to me clear that this kind of ap-15 proach that was taken in this case was violative of 16 at least the intent and the spirit of the good-faith 17 requirement in Mount Laurel II, even though it may 18 not have been a strict violation of the letter of 19 the law in Mount Laurel II, and that this is exact-20 ly the kind of abuse which I feel that the Court 21 should be wary of permitting to continue, to use 22 Mount Laurel litigation as a club.

23 You know, the funny thing is in this case, 24 is that if that letter had come in and proposed 25 housing that was non-Mount Laurel housing, there's

1 no doubt about the fact that this would be the 2 threat that we are talking about today. But instead, 3 the letter comes in with a deliberately offensive 4 tone that can only be calculated to make the muni-5 cipality nonreceptive to the proposal rather than 6 receptive to it, and then take us into court and 7 demand the builder's remedy.

8 It seems to me that's exactly the kind of a 9 situation where a builder's remedy should not be 10 granted.

11 If I may, Your Honor, I'd like to then turn 12 my attention to the Zirinsky situation. The 13 Zirinsky case I think points out more than any other 14 situation the dangers and the problems involved
15 in deciding whether a builder's remedy is required 16 or whether a builder's remedy is earned or deserved 17 in any given case.

18 Here we have a builder who, by purchase of 19 option, has acquired what amounts to a substantial 20 portion of the Township, not just a hundred acres or 21 two hundred acres but, by varying accounts that we 22 have had, somewhere between sixteen hundred and 23 two thousand acres in a town that only has a little 24 over eight thousand acres. So by anybody's count, 25 that's somewhere between twenty and twenty-five

1 percent of the town that he has under option.

2 Then he comes in and he says: I want to put 3 research and office building on my property. His 4 background is in research and office. He never 5 mentions housing of any kind, Mount Laurel housing 6 or otherwise.

7 He is told by the Township Fathers: Look, 8 what you are proposing isn't consistent with what 9 we have planned for out there, and we don't want it.
10 We don't think that it's an appropriate place for 11 it, and we don't think you're going to get very far 12 with it. You can proceed and go to the Planning 13 Board if you want to.

14 The Planning Board puts him off until after 15 he has had -- until after the Township has adopted 16 its new zoning ordinance, because that was all being 17 done contemporaneously at that time.

18 Then nothing more is heard from the applicant
19 for a period of several months, until December, 20 after this new zoning ordinance has been in effect
21 for approximately five months, after this litigation 22 and various other plaintiffs have already started 23 the case, when we are within three months of the 24 proposed trial date in this case, and now he comes 25 in, and in his complaint in this case he says, for

1 the very first time: I propose to build Mount
2 Laurel housing and, therefore, you should grant me 3 a builder's remedy.

4 We don't even know where on those sixteen 5 hundred to two thousand acres he proposes to build 6 the Mount Laurel housing, or whether he proposes 7 to build it on all of it. I certainly hope not, be-8 cause that would result in tens of thousands of 9 housing units in Cranbury, rather than the thousands 10 that we are already talking about.

11 And it seems to me that, in this regard, his 12 request for a builder's remedy fails on two issues.
13 One is that, clearly, he hasn't proposed something 14 specific. He hadn't proposed anything at all to 15 the Town until he filed the suit.

16 And I would point out to Your Honor that 17 not only is the position taken by the Township firm 18 in that position, but also, the briefs filed by 19 at least two of the plaintiffs -- and by that, I 20 mean the brief filed by the Urban League and by 21 Toll Brothers -- both indicate that something has 22 to be proposed.

23 I would submit that something more should be 24 done than what the Urban League proposed; but even 25 Zirinsky doesn't come up to the level that they say --

1 they would indicate that even a letter that in-2 dicates a willingness to negotiate should be suf-3 ficient.

4 I don't think so. I think that the muni-
5 cipality should be given something concrete to deal 6 with in terms of a specific plan that they can re-
7 view. But even if we take the more limited standard 8 of you have to propose something in some fashion 9 or form, send a letter, say we would like to build 10 Mount Laurel housing on our property, can we sit 11 down and talk to you about it, Zirinsky does not 12 even rise to the level of that standard.

13 And the second part of that is, and the flip 14 side of it is, I don't see what the difference is 15 between a developer who comes in and says, I want 16 to build research and office in your township, and 17 the Township says, we're sorry, but we're not 18 interested in that in that location, and then he 19 turns around and sues on Mount Laurel grounds, and 20 the developer that comes in and says, I want to 21 build research and office in your township, and if 22 you don't let me do that, then I'm going to sue on 23 Mount Laurel grounds, and then he turns around and 24 sues on Mount Laurel grounds.

25 It seems to me that in one case the threat is

1 explicit, and the other case, the threat is implicit; 2 and in both cases, the builder's remedy should be 3 denied.

4 With regard to the third plaintiff, Cranbury
5 Land Company, there is no doubt about the fact that 6 Cranbury Land Company, for a substantial period of 7 time in the early 1970's, did actually propose to 8 the Township the provision of some Mount Laurel
9 housing.

10 Of course, we didn't have Mount Laurel
11 housing back then. It was low and moderate income 12 housing. And the original proposals were made to 13 the Township long before the Supreme Court's initial 14 decision in Mount Laurel I, and at a time when we 15 still had the Bedminster case, the original Bedminster 16 case, which said that it was perfectly okay for a 17 municipality to zone five-acre housing.

18 I make those comments not from the point of 19 view of trying to take away from the efforts that 20 this plaintiff has made, but rather to indicate the 21 procedural posture that the municipality was in at 22 that point in time.

23 There is no doubt about the fact that the 24 municipality resisted those efforts; however, I think 25 we have an additional problem here, and that is that

1 sometime in 1976, for whatever reason, the plain-2 tiff apparently decided to do nothing further.

3 The plaintiff says that he would have testi-4 fied that he was waiting to see what happened in 5 the Opinion in the Urban League case which is now 6 before this Court on remand. I would submit to 7 Your Honor, however, that waiting seven years for 8 something to happen seems to me to be stretching a 9 point a bit, and it's -- the plaintiff had some 10 obligation to propose something more than just sit 11 back and wait for seven years, but should have come 12 in and said -- or made it known that, "We still 13 stand ready to build this type of housing, and we 14 want to do it," and got some kind of a response 15 from the municipality.

16 I call Your Honor's attention to the fact -- 17 it's in the record -- that for a period of a few 18 years prior to 1983, the municipality was involved
19 in the process of revising its master plan and re-20 zoning the town, and this plaintiff was not heard 21 from that -- during that time period with any re-22 quest for consideration for Mount Laurel housing in 23 that process.

24 Lastly, we come to Garfield; and, Your 25 Honor, with regard to Garfield, I have already stated

1 the fact that the municipality is -- finds itself
2 in the position of saying that even if we didn't 3 feel that Garfield was entitled to a builder's 4 remedy, it just so happens to be the owner of the 5 land where the Township feels that this kind of 6 housing should go.

7 And that was already demonstrated by the 8 fact that the Township's high density zone happens 9 to have encompassed Garfield's property.

10 I would only point out for the record, Your 11 Honor, so that I do not appear to be inconsistent, 12 that I do not think that the type of presentation
13 that was made by Garfield at the Township Committee
14 Meeting on the second reading of the zoning ordinance, 15 at the end of a three-year period of master plan 16 revision and zoning ordinance revision, would other-17 wise be sufficient to entitle them to a builder's 18 remedy, when it comes in literally at the eleventh 19 hour and says: Wait, I want to build Mount Laurel 20 housing.

21 However, I realize that because of the 22 position that the Township has taken with regard 23 to Garfield's property, that that argument really 24 is meaningless in this context. I just want to 25 indicate, however, that we are being consistent in

1 our impression that, in our opinion, that is not 2 sufficient to trigger an entitlement to builder's 3 remedy.

4 However, I think, for all of those reasons,
5 that on the question of good faith and the question -- 6 and I think the two subsidiary points that are in-7 volved, A, the use of Mount Laurel as a club and, B, 8 the obligation of the developer to at least offer
9 something to the town, to come in and say, "Let me 10 do this, please," and get a negative response from 11 the Township before it files a suit or rushes off 12 to court to file a suit, that, on both of those 13 issues, that the builders in this case are not en-14 titled to a builder's remedy.

15 THE COURT: All right. Suppose we take the 16 responses in the order in which Mr. Moran has ad-17 dressed them.

18 MISS HIRSCH: Your Honor, I believe that 19 comment that Mr. Moran made which refers to the 20 fact that if our letter to the Township had not in-21 cluded an offer to do Mount Laurel housing, that 22 it would clearly come within the threat language 23 of the Mount Laurel decision, is very revealing.

24 In fact, the language at page 218, which is 25 constantly referred to with respect to Toll Brothers --

1 I'm sorry, it's page 280 -- talks about a builder 2 using that law as an unintended bargaining chip and 3 threatening to bring Mount Laurel litigation in the 4 course of going after municipal approval for pro-5 jects which contain no lower income housing.

6 The letter to the Cranbury Township Committee 7 and the Cranbury Planning Board, however you would 8 characterize it, clearly does state that Toll Brothers 9 was submitting a plan which involved twenty percent, 10 a hundred and eighty-eight units, which would be 11 affordable to lower income persons.

12 Additionally, I'd like to point out that the 13 letter enclosed ordinance amendments and master plan 14 amendments which, in at least one other town that 15 we have been involved with, were amendments of a 16 type that a particular governing body did find were 17 acceptable later down the line.

18 Although the tone of the letter may not be 19 acceptable -- I understand Your Honor's position on 20 that -- we did do a good bit more than the other 21 plaintiffs in this case who may have appeared at 22 meetings and claimed that proposed master plan re-23 visions would not be sufficient, there would be 24 problems with them.

25 We submitted specific ordinance provisions

1 which we believe meet the precepts of Mount Laurel II.

2 As a part of our January 6th letter, we 3 additionally offered to meet with the Township and 4 its attorneys and planners until a certain date, to 5 go over the analysis that we set forth in the letter.

6 We also said that we would like the opportunity
7 to work with the Town on the revisions to the master 8 plan and ordinances that would be needed to implement 9 the proposal that we were making.

10 I think that those additional comments in 11 the letter should be kept in mind. I don't believe 12 that, in this context, that the efforts of Toll 13 Brothers can be considered a threat.

14 There was an offer in the letter to do Mount 15 Laurel housing. The suit was then filed. It was 16 our understanding, due to the good faith and offer
17 to attempt to resolve without litigation language
18 in the Mount Laurel decision, that such an effort 19 was required.

20 If we had not sent that letter to the Town 21 and had instead filed suit, we would have been in-22 volved in this case perhaps more directly, earlier 23 part of the case. The timing was -- of the letter 24 was January 6th, 1984. We received a response from 25 the mayor on January 18th, 1984.

1 If we had not allowed that time to pass, and 2 had instead filed a complaint immediately, our 3 complaint would have been filed a mere fifteen days 4 after Mr. Zirinsky's.

5 It is our position that some effort is re-6 quired by a plaintiff to bring a proposal involving 7 lower income housing to the attention of the muni-
8 cipality before the litigation is filed. And I
9 believe that the efforts of my client were sufficient, 10 given that language. Thank you.

11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Mr. Herbert?

12 MR. HERBERT: Your Honor, last week, when we 13 heard an argument about exhaustion of remedies, and 14 based upon the -- perhaps the direction of the col-15 loquy that took place, Mr. Moran apparently, like 16 the good litigator that he is, has now retreated to 17 another basis to try to eliminate my client from the 18 case. And this one now is in the -- under the label 19 of good faith.

20 To my amazement and great disappointment, last 21 Wednesday I was notified by Urban League for the 22 first time ever that they intended to join with 23 Mr. Moran in that motion. This was on the same day 24 that they filed a brief concerning priorities, in 25 which they bemoaned the fact that settlement discussions

1 including my client had not been productive.

2 I think we can all draw, at least I can draw,
3 certain conclusions from that, but I am not going 4 to. I don't think it serves any purpose for me to 5 look at the motives of Urban League, just as I
6 believe it serves little purpose for Urban League
7 to conjecture as to what the motives of Mr. Zirinsky 8 are, when they never took the time to look at the 9 various correspondence which were alluded to today 10 in the stipulation.

11 That's behind us. I want to address some 12 of the comments made by Mr. Moran about what occurred 13 concerning my client.

14 In March of 1982, my client contacted
15 Mayor Danser and the then planning director, 16 Mr. March, to have a meeting. A meeting was held 17 in Princeton with the engineers and planners at that 18 time, at which time my client urged that there be 19 adopted, or allowed for, office-research in the 20 western part of town.

21 As the stipulation indicates, both representa-
22 tives of Cranbury said that there was little hope 23 of any success, but feel free to apply to the 24 Planning Board, which they promptly did.

25 There was an exchange of six letters going

1 back and forth, culminating on June 27th, 1983
2 and the Planning Board basically saying: Even 3 though we previously listed you on the Planning 4 Board agenda, we are not going to hear you, because 5 the zoning ordinance was then being considered by 6 the Township.

7 The Township then adopted the zoning ordinance, 8 I believe sometime in July or August, sometime during 9 the summer; and, shortly thereafter, Garfield filed 10 its complaint. Garfield's complaint was filed on 11 September 7th, 1983.

12 It was during that period of time, I can 13 simply represent to you, that Mr. Zirinsky, during -- 14 after his rejection by the Board, and shortly before 15 that rejection, that he had believed that one way of 16 allowing for him to proceed with office and research 17 was to provide for low and moderate income housing 18 as part of the overall project.

19 That's not in the stipulation. It's simply 20 my representation. And it was never evidenced in 21 any writing up to that point in time, nor was it 22 expressed by Mr. Zirinsky or his representatives 23 up to being basically told to get lost, if you will, 24 on June 27th.

25 After Garfield filed its complaint, on

1 September --

2 THE COURT: Excuse me.

3 (Discussion off the record between the Court 4 and his secretary.)

5 THE COURT: Okay. We'll have to take a 6 break.

7 MR. HERBERT: Sure.

8 (Whereupon a brief recess was taken.)

9 * * * *

10 THE COURT: Sorry. That was the boss.

11 MR. HERBERT: Your Honor, I was attempting 12 to point out that the -- shortly after the zoning 13 ordinance was adopted -- and you heard pretty vivid 14 descriptions of that zoning ordinance, which the 15 municipality acknowledges was noncomplying with 16 Mount Laurel itself -- when that was adopted, a suit 17 was instituted, was almost immediately filed by 18 Garfield, which Garfield is quite proud of, and 19 rightly so.

20 Shortly thereafter, suit was filed by the 21 Cranbury Land Company, represented by Mr. Bisgaier.
22 That was on November 9th, 1983.

23 On November 15th, 1983, I sent a letter to 24 the Court indicating -- it's in the record -- in-25 dicating our interest in getting involved, of our --

1 I believe our interest in involving ourselves in 2 Mount Laurel litigation; sent a copy to all, sent a 3 copy to all of the parties in this matter.

4 And on November 16th, I believe there was a --
5 I'm sorry -- November 18th, there was a status con-
6 ference here in this court, the first status conference 7 in this case, at which time my associate, David Roskos, 8 was in attendance.

9 If Your Honor recalls, that meeting was quite 10 lengthy. The issue of any -- of Zirinsky's motion 11 to consolidate was debated; and, as a follow-up, 12 on November 28th, 1983, Your Honor issued the first 13 pretrial status letter addressed to all attorneys,
14 and it noted, at the bottom of page 2, Your Honor's 15 intention to -- the direction to our law firm to 16 submit an order to consolidate, and to circulate 17 that among all of the parties on a five-day basis.

18 And you concluded by stating: "I would, of 19 course, entertain any objections to the proposed 20 order."

21 Your Honor, from November, there was nothing.
22 Nothing happened in this case from the first -- the 23 filing of suit by Garfield on September 7th until 24 that status conference on November 18th, 1983, 25 nothing at all other than the filing of complaints

1 and the filing of answers.

2 From that day forward, Mr. Zirinsky actively, 3 through his law firm, actively participated in 4 every phase of the trial.

5 We filed our complaint, it's true, as 6 Mr. Moran says, several months later, in fact, on 7 December 20th. In actuality, we were involved in 8 this process informally as early, as I have indicated, 9 as November 18th, after sending a letter to the 10 Court and to all counsel on November 15th.

11 There isn't one aspect of this entire matter
12 that my client has not fully participated in. There 13 was no objection by either the defendant or Urban 14 League or anybody else to our being consolidated as 15 a plaintiff.

16 Our complaint was quite detailed, specifying, 17 I believe, at paragraphs 13, 14 and 15 of Count 1, 18 specifically what the history of this case was, and 19 our involvement.

20 Your Honor, the rest is more or less history.
21 We've hired a planner. There was a status con-
22 ference here in January -- I'm sorry -- yes, January, 23 on January 24th, 1984. And at that time, I believe 24 Your Honor remarked that we were the only plaintiff -- 25 and I mean this with greatest respect to other

1 plaintiffs -- we were the only party, I believe, 2 that submitted a planner's report other than 3 Ms. Lerman up to that point. And I think your com-4 ment at that time, Your Honor, was, we were the 5 last one in but we were the first ones to comply with 6 the pretrial directives.

7 Mr. Lynch, our planner, then participated
8 actively with Mr. Mallach, the Urban League planner, 9 and other experts, and was involved in the evolution 10 of the consensus report. If you recall, Your Honor, 11 Ms. Lerman and Mr. Mallach testified about the 12 contributions of Mr. Lynch.

13 From that point on, we participated in all 14 aspects of depositions. We even conducted the 15 depositions of Mr. Ginman in my office. We 16 participated in various pretrial motions, including 17 a motion for recusal, and have participated, I 18 believe, quite actively, despite the fact that my 19 client's last name begins with Z, in the entire 20 proceedings.

21 We have not missed one day of trial, and my 22 client has already absorbed an enormous expense up
23 to this point. At no time prior to last week did 24 anyone ever raise the issue specifically that we 25 would have to send a letter in prior to filing suit

1 as a sine qua non for having, if you will, standing 2 to proceed with the builder's remedy.

3 The pretrial order does not direct, it talks 4 generally about the right to builder's remedy. The 5 issue was never raised by anybody in this case.

6 Mr. Moran raises it generally, the five 7 points in his trial brief, it's true, but no one 8 ever raised this in the context of a motion.

9 Now, I am told that somehow we are different
10 than other planners because we, by Mr. Moran's 11 presentation, we did not provide anything specific 12 to Cranbury Township. Your Honor, we couldn't pro-13 vide anything specific, because we -- in effect, 14 any efforts to meet with the Planning Board early 15 on were just rejected out of hand.

16 It's true that those earlier -- the only 17 overtures that we were able to make were in the 18 context of office and research, but we couldn't 19 even get to first base. There were no other specific 20 proposals ever presented, that is, site plans, in 21 this case other than perhaps Toll Brothers, which 22 came in after -- behind us.

23 It's true that Garfield, for example, made 24 a generalized presentation, but no site plan was 25 ever proposed, no specific units designed, and so

1 forth, and the same for the other plaintiff.

2 And, very honestly, it's understandable
3 that they wouldn't. We had no idea of what units 4 were going to be for the town. We had no idea what 5 the reaction of the Town would be as to specific 6 proposals.

7 I am hearing now that because my client went 8 through the expense of optioning a great quantity 9 of land, that somehow that should be worked in his 10 prejudice. With all due respect, I think it should 11 work to his advantage, and that's in the issue of 12 builder's remedy on priorities.

13 I'm not going to get to that, but all I am 14 saying is that we are trying to be fluid. We are 15 trying to be responsive to the Town. We have had 16 innumerable discussions with the Town, and through 17 Mr. Moran, about possibly resolving this case, the 18 contents of which obviously cannot be placed on the 19 record. But our attempt was to be flexible.

20 But I think that gets us to where we -- what 21 the Supreme Court was involved with when it talked 22 about the threat that would bar a litigant from 23 Mount Laurel relief, at page 280.

24 In the stipulation, it says -- the stipula-
25 tion in our case -- it is acknowledged that no

1 threat was ever made to litigate a case, and that 2 is true; and, therefore, the provision of page 280, 3 paragraph 66, that Your Honor referred to before, 4 is not applicable.

5 As to paragraph 69, the Court alludes to the 6 Chester case in speaking about not using Mount Laurel 7 as a bargaining chip.

8 In Chester, what occurred there, not only 9 was there an environmentally unsound piece of property, 10 but there was no commitment to construct low and 11 moderate income housing.

12 Here there is a commitment, and I believe 13 that that is the following -- that the following, 14 the last several sentences of paragraph 69 at the 15 page of 281 I believe resolved the issue, and that 16 is that Trial Courts should guard the public interest 17 carefully to be sure that plaintiff developers do 18 not abuse the Mount Laurel doctrine.

19 Where builder's remedies are awarded, are 20 awarded, Your Honor, the remedy should be carefully 21 conditioned to assure that the -- that in fact, the 22 plaintiff developer constructs a substantial amount 23 of low income housing.

24 THE COURT: Do you know, in the Chester case, 25 whether the plaintiff had actually made an application

1 for a variance and was denied?

2 MR. HERBERT: I believe he did, Your Honor.
3 He was asking for multi-family housing on a flood 4 plain.

5 THE COURT: You see, you can read that sentence -- 6 I think you're right, but you can read that sentence 7 two ways.

8 You can read it to say or to address the 9 situation where a builder has been unable to secure 10 a variance, that is, has been denied a variance; 11 or has been unable, in the general sense would be 12 unable, to secure a variance.

13 It has a different meaning depending on how 14 you read it. I think in Chester, there was actually 15 an application for a variance, which was denied.

16 MR. HERBERT: I believe so, Your Honor. Here, 17 there was no -- well, I don't want to belabor the 18 point.

19 There was no opportunity to even present 20 any proposal formally to the Planning Board, because 21 those efforts were basically met with the point 22 that -- with the reaction by Cranbury that because 23 the zoning ordinance was then in progress, such a 24 meeting would be, if you will, and these are my 25 words, fruitless.

1 Now, Mr. Moran would, I am sure, point out 2 that after the zoning ordinance was adopted, as he 3 has pointed out, why didn't the builder come forth 4 with a specific proposal? I would like to really 5 ask him. Would there be any hope to it?

6 Here we are in court, with Garfield sitting 7 here seeking high density zoning and providing a 8 set-aside for low and moderate income housing. It's 9 no secret that that is in a location that Cranbury
10 would like to locate such housing; but yet, Cranbury 11 has resisted all efforts by Garfield to -- absent 12 litigation, to do so.

13 How could we possibly hope to go through an 14 effort of seeking zoning revisions so as to provide 15 for low and moderate income housing in the western 16 part of town, when, in the eastern part where, if 17 anything, Cranbury would -- at least alleges that 18 they'd like to see that housing, they frustrated 19 those efforts?

20 The other thing I want to point out is what 21 would have occurred had we made an application while 22 the suit had been filed in September, and gone 23 through this fruitless process only to find out, 24 on the day of trial, that any such efforts would be 25 totally unproductive.

1 And I would venture a guess, not a guess, 2 but a one hundred percent guarantee, but that such 3 efforts would be unproductive.

4 Then we'd be back in a position of maybe 5 having a viable argument about exhaustion, about 6 coming in too late.

7 The fact is, Your Honor, in this case, we 8 came in very early in the game. We participated 9 in every aspect of this trial.

10 The Court speaks about providing a builder's 11 remedy as an inducement for builders to put their 12 resources forth and to shoulder the financial 13 responsibility of these kinds of cases.

14 And if they have an appropriate site, and if 15 it's environmentally -- if it's environmentally 16 appropriate, then, within the fair share, a builder's 17 remedy should be granted.

18 Now, Your Honor, we believe that we should 19 have an opportunity to have a master look at our 20 sites and to fashion a specific proposal that would 21 be detailed. And, as I said, other than Toll, the 22 other plaintiffs have not fashioned that, simply 23 because we don't know what the fair share number 24 was going to be, we don't know what the overall 25 allocation was, and so forth.

1 But if this motion is granted, we won't ever 2 get that opportunity.

3 The thing that rings a bell with me as I 4 stand here and read the Urban League's brief is 5 their statement about -- page 3, at the bottom, the 6 second sentence: "The Supreme Court, however, was 7 also balancing fair play to the municipality against 8 its pragmatic concern that housing production be 9 encouraged."

10 I would only ask, where is the fair play for 11 my client? Where is the fair play when somebody 12 attempts to have an audience with the Planning Board 13 and does not get that audience?

14 Where is the fair play when no one objects
15 to a motion to consolidate only after several weeks 16 of trial, only after we are at the builder's remedy 17 stage, and then introduces this argument?

18 Your Honor, I think that if a -- if we are 19 going to put to the litmus test the true motives
20 of plaintiff developers, then I would venture a 21 guess that a very guileless lawyer perhaps could say 22 all the right things in an appropriate letter, but 23 have intentions not to build low and moderate in-24 come housing.

25 That wasn't done here. No threats were made.

1 And we are committed, in the words of page 281 of 2 the Decision, to construct low and moderate income 3 housing at the appropriate offset declared by the 4 Court.

5 We'd like to have that opportunity. And we 6 don't believe, by any stretch of the imagination
7 have we ever made any threat, and that's stipulated 8 to as far as an explicit threat; nor have we acted 9 in bad faith in this matter, and we therefore ask 10 that the motion be denied.

11 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Bisgaier.

12 MR. BISGAIER: Your Honor, I think that 13 Mr. Herbert really touched on one of the major con-14 siderations that you should have in ruling on this 15 motion, and that is the fundamental purpose of 16 the builder's remedy, why the Court instituted it 17 after so many years of litigation.

18 I would bring to the Court's attention that 19 it was not the builders who came to the Court seek-20 ing the builder's remedy; it was the public interest
21 bar that came to the Court seeking the builder's 22 remedy, believed it thoroughly argued it vociferous-23 ly and at great length before the Supreme Court.

24 And the reason for that argument was because 25 however serious the Mount Laurel mandate, whatever

1 its constitutional underpinnings, the public 2 interest bar is in the totality, sat before the 3 Supreme Court during those arguments, all four 4 entities, all of which since that time have experienced 5 the pitfalls of public interest representation from 6 the point of view of the support it has gotten and 7 the potential for the public interest bar to be under-8 cut along the way.

9 And it was because of the need of a class of 10 plaintiffs that would bring Mount Laurel litigation
11 that the Court instituted the builder's remedy.

12 There has been talk that the builder's
13 remedy is not a constitutional right. Of course 14 it's not a constitutional right. It's a remedy for 15 the satisfaction of a constitutional right; and as 16 such, it has constitutional significance.

17 And for the Court to be asked to undermine 18 it in any way is for the Court to be asked to do 19 something very, very serious in its implications.
20 And to couch it from the point of view of a standing 21 issue or from the point of view of an exhaustion 22 issue, I think is really a mistake.

23 I think the Supreme Court's concerns about 24 granting the builder's remedy are spelled out at 25 length. It did not have a significant concern with

1 regard to standing or exhaustion. Its concerns
2 were to get a class of plaintiffs to litigate, not 3 to have housing built in areas where, for very sound 4 and very serious environmental reasons, it should 5 not be built.

6 The one thing the Court mentioned which the 7 Court was concerned about, and I think the only 8 thing that there should be a serious concern about, 9 is the issue of the bargaining chip, the builder who 10 is really using the Mount Laurel litigation or a 11 threat of Mount Laurel litigation as a way to get 12 something other than an approval to construct low 13 and moderate income housing.

14 A look at the Clinton, Caputo and Mount Laurel
15 cases I think really expresses the Court's intent 16 on how the builder's remedy should be utilized.

17 The Court had experience with the builder's 18 remedy. It had several builders before it in Mount 19 Laurel. It had a builder who had simply written a 20 letter to the municipality and had done absolutely 21 nothing more, prior to filing its litigation. And 22 the letter simply stated its desire to build a 23 mobile home park in the township. There was no 24 submission of any plans. There was no application 25 for anything else.

1 That builder is now constructing four hundred
2 and some odd units of mobile homes in Mount Laurel
3 Township as a result of the builder's remedy.

4 In the Caputo case, the Court was faced with 5 a developer who had gone forward without a Mount 6 Laurel -- without any Mount Laurel units, with the 7 intent to build Mount Laurel units. The Court ad-8 dresses the way to deal with that in its opinion.

9 The way to deal with that was to mandate as 10 part of the builder's remedy that the builder build 11 low and moderate income units. The Court didn't say 12 because this builder went forward, sought a variance 13 and didn't get it, it was not entitled to the 14 builder's remedy. The Court didn't say because there 15 was no application for low and moderate income 16 housing, this builder was not entitled to the builder's
17 remedy.

18 The only reason the builder in Caputo was not 19 entitled to the builder's remedy was because of its 20 site, and because of the environmental degradation
21 that would be created on its site. No other reason 22 was given by the Court.

23 And in that case, where the Court specifical-
24 ly addressed these very concerns, the Court said 25 that the Trial Court's method of dealing with that

1 would be to mandate low and moderate income housing 2 as part of the development.

3 Round Valley and Clinton is even more on 4 point. There, the developer had gone forward with 5 a proposal on a site which it ultimately sold for 6 commercial and industrial development during the 7 course of the litigation.

8 What did the Court do? Did the Court say:
9 Clear evidence that Mount Laurel was being used by 10 a developer to get industrial and commercial develop-11 ment on its site? Could there have been clear 12 evidence of that? Was there a presumption raised 13 in the Court's mind that this builder was really 14 not intending to go forward? No.

15 The Court said: This developer will have 16 the right now, on remand, on another tract on which 17 it had never proposed low and moderate income housing, 18 to go forward and prove to a master that it would 19 be -- that it was feasible on that site, and that 20 financially and from an environmental perspective, 21 low and moderate income housing could be built there.

22 That's how the Courts treated three proposals.

23 THE COURT: What actually happened in Clinton, 24 though?

25 MR. BISGAIER: Pardon me, Your Honor?

1 THE COURT: What actually happened in 2 Clinton?

3 MR. BISGAIER: I can't address that from the 4 point of view of my own personal knowledge. I have 5 an understanding of what happened, and that is 6 something I think to be addressed to the Trial Court
7 in implementing the Mount Laurel ruling.

8 THE COURT: It's been reported that it's -- 9 the case was resolved without any Mount Laurel pro-10 vision at all.

11 MR. HERBERT: Can I address that? I don't 12 mean to interrupt Mr. Bisgaier's --

13 THE COURT: Go ahead.

14 MR. HERBERT: -- presentation. I was trial
15 counsel and litigated the entire Round Valley case
16 through to the Supreme Court.

17 What had happened was that the Supreme 18 Court -- and I mean this with respect to the Court -- 19 took two years to issue its decision. In the mean-20 time, there was a Trial Court finding, by the way, 21 that holding the land cost upwards of a thousand 22 dollars a day.

23 Frankly, the developer just gave up waiting -- 24 and this is not meant to be critical of the 25 Court -- and settled with Clinton Township to

1 construct other than Mount Laurel housing, but 2 they didn't get a builder's remedy. There was no
3 injunction used by any Court.

4 And today, there's no Mount Laurel housing 5 on that site.

6 THE COURT: Did the Court approve the settle-7 ment?

8 MR. HERBERT: I don't believe so, Your Honor.
9 The case was resolved without any further litiga-
10 tion. And I can get into, you know, the discussions 11 I had with Judge D'Annunzio in that vicinage about 12 it, but the Clinton case was not used as a bargaining 13 chip; nor was there any threat made.

14 The problem that occurred was that, as I 15 have indicated, that it was a site that was being 16 carried at an enormous interest cost, with land-17 carrying cost.

18 And I can only speak for -- Mr. Hill assumed 19 responsibility for that case after I was involved.
20 I can only tell you that the case was resolved in 21 the two-year hiatus waiting for a decision from the 22 Supreme Court.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Bisgaier, did you by chance
24 see the brief which the Public Advocate has filed 25 in the Bedminster case concerning builder's remedies?

1 MR. BISGAIER: No. I haven't seen the 2 brief, nor was the intention to file it shared with 3 me.

4 THE COURT: It's funny how the worm turns,
5 and I apply that equally to the Urban League.

6 The Public Advocate has taken the position
7 that it's appropriate -- and I don't want to mis-8 characterize what they have said, but I think it's -- 9 I think this is a fair characterization, that it 10 would be appropriate in Mount Laurel litigation for 11 the Court to accept a settlement between a township 12 and one builder, and treat that settlement as a 13 resolution of the class action, and cut off any 14 other builder's remedies and, instead, give those 15 other builders an opportunity to be heard with 16 respect to the proposed settlement and the ordinance 17 revision.

18 It's even been argued that in a case such 19 as -- and I am not suggesting that the Public 20 Advocate argued this, but it's been argued that in 21 a case such as this, which has been brought by a 22 public interest group, that any builder who joins 23 shouldn't have the builder's remedy because, after 24 all, the Urban League would have carried this case
25 to a conclusion, and the purposes of Mount Laurel

1 would have been fulfilled.

2 And I just wondered if you want to comment
3 on both of those.

4 MR. BISGAIER: Well, I can't comment on the 5 first position, it seems like -- much too complicated, 6 on the class action issue, although I think it's 7 abhorrent in this situation, where you have people 8 who have been participating essentially throughout 9 the litigation, to have a settlement with one of the 10 class as opposed to others, as if they hadn't been 11 there.

12 THE COURT: Well, it seems to apply even more
13 strongly. In other words, the Public Advocate's 14 taking the position that even in the absence of a 15 public interest group in the litigation, that one 16 of the plaintiffs can settle, and the settlement 17 will be treated as a class action settlement and,
18 thereafter, there will be a hearing akin to a class 19 action hearing as to whether the public interests 20 are being served; and the rights of the other 21 developers will be limited to demonstrating that 22 their parcel was unreasonably or capriciously ex-23 cluded from -- in the rezoning process.

24 It's my understanding that Judge Skillman
25 has ruled on such a matter last Friday, and I

1 understand he's going to reduce it to an opinion.

2 MS. HIRSCH: Yes, Your Honor. I just wanted
3 to represent to the Court, that is correct. It was 4 in the case of the Morris County Fair Housing 5 Council suit and Charles Development Corp. versus 6 Morris Township.

7 And that is correct, except that the judge
8 is requiring at this hearing that the other developers 9 who were challenging the settlement have an opportunity 10 to show why it does not provide for the Town's 11 fair share or why it's not within a reasonable range 12 of what that fair share is.

13 THE COURT: And also to show that they should 14 be included, --

15 MS. HIRSCH: Yes.

16 THE COURT: -- I take it. But there is in-17 herent in his decision the concept that other 18 builders who were plaintiffs might be excluded and 19 not receive a builder's remedy, I think.

20 MS. HIRSCH: Yes, that is correct, if they 21 don't meet the burden of showing why the settlement 22 is unfair.

23 THE COURT: So he's -- if I understand it, 24 he's taken -- essentially, the decision will be 25 whether the Township or municipality arbitrarily or

1 capriciously fails to include those builders in 2 their rezoning scheme, in light of their fair 3 share number.

4 MS. HIRSCH: I think the first decision
5 will have to be that the proposed rezoning, which 6 in this case was adopted by the Town but was con-7 ditioned upon a judgment of compliance being issued,
8 meets the Town's fair share or comes close to meet-9 ing the Town's fair share and, if it doesn't, that 10 there is some good rationale for it not meeting
11 its fair share, either insufficient vacant land 12 or some other justification.

13 In that case, the only plaintiff, the only 14 developer who was challenging the settlement was 15 a developer who really did come in at the eleventh 16 hour, within weeks of the case, the first trial
17 date that was set, and additionally who Judge 18 Skillman ordered not be joined, not be consolidated 19 with the main action.

20 So, there may be some distinctions there.

21 MR. BISGAIER: I have had some discussion
22 with the Public Advocate about the Morris Township 23 situation, which I think is very different from 24 that one. They had essentially resolved the 25 settlement when another piece of litigation was

1 filed, and I think that's the context.

2 Although I haven't seen that ruling or heard 3 from anybody other than Ms. Hirsh as to what it was, 4 I would expect that would be the context of that 5 ruling, which I think distinguishes it from the 6 factual setting here.

7 The second point that Your Honor brought to 8 our attention, as to the right to builder's remedy 9 in the context of public interest litigation, is 10 something that I have a very strong opinion on, and 11 I think that there should be no question about it, 12 in light of the history of public interest litiga-13 tion in this context.

14 As much as the Urban League would like to 15 assure the Court that it will be here to pursue 16 this litigation to its finality, it can't, and it 17 knows that, and the Court knows that, it's been 18 its representation before the Appellate Division.

19 The Public Advocate was unable to do that 20 as to twelve municipalities that it sued in 1978, 21 dropped from litigation because of costs.

22 The Urban -- the Suburban Action Institute, 23 which filed litigation against three other munie-
24 ipalities with Mahwah, has been unable to pursue 25 those other municipalities because of the cost of

1 litigation.

2 The existence of a public interest litigant
3 is certainly a benefit to the Court and a benefit 4 to the public. It does not preclude the need for 5 the builder's remedy, and does not preclude the -- 6 it should not preclude the exercise of the builder's 7 remedy.

8 We do not know when the public interest bar 9 is going to drop out of a case. Neither does the 10 Court. And in order to maintain this class of 11 plaintiffs that the Supreme Court saw as essential 12 to bringing Mount Laurel litigation, the existence 13 of the public interest bar, to the extent it does 14 exist, should not foreclose, in the context of any 15 litigation, the granting of builder's remedy to an 16 otherwise appropriate plaintiff.

17 The specifics of the facts here I think 18 substantially enhance, certainly, my client's rights 19 vis-a-vis the arguments of the Township.

20 My own view is that there is no plaintiff
21 here who the Township has the right to foreclose 22 from moving forward toward a builder's remedy. The 23 fact that a representative of Garfield stood up in 24 a public meeting is enough. I think if no representa-25 tive stood up at all, in light of the pendency of 1 the litigation, it would have been enough.

2 The fact that they came, they represented -- 3 they represented somebody who purportedly is ready, 4 willing and able to build low and moderate income 5 housing, is enough.

6 There was no threat there. There was no
7 threat in the Toll Brothers situation. There was 8 no threat in the Zirinsky situation.

9 A rebuttable presumption is now to be given 10 in the Zirinsky situation because they didn't pro-11 pose low and moderate income housing, but they came 12 in and litigated the claim afterwards? So what?
13 How do they rebut the presumption?

14 THE COURT: What about the public interest 15 dimension which the Urban League refers to, and 16 the perception out there in the municipalities that 17 Mount Laurel is being abused, and the perception of 18 a town, let's say, like Franklin Township, now, 19 which has been sued by ten plaintiffs, as to the 20 fairness of this process, as to the appropriateness 21 of the process?

22 You don't see in that, setting that, there 23 might be a point at which we have to say, look, we 24 don't need ten builders to bring about the goals 25 of Mount Laurel?

1 MR. BISGAIER: Yes, it is, to some extent.
2 It's an issue that's apparently going to be heard
3 by Your Honor at some point in this litigation, 4 which would be the priority issue. It's another 5 answer in terms of how to deal with numerous builders.

6 THE COURT: Let's assume there's enough fair
7 share there to satisfy the ten of them.

8 MR. BISGAIER: If there's enough fair share
9 there to take the ten of them, then I don't think 10 the municipality has a standing to complain. They 11 have the opportunity and have had the opportunity 12 since nineteen seventy -- actually, since 1971, when 13 the first Trial Courts began articulating the Mount 14 Laurel doctrine, to begin to comply with the Mount 15 Laurel mandate. They have certainly had the opportunity 16 since January of 1983 to comply with the mandate.

17 If they have done nothing, if they have gone 18 this length of time having done nothing, and put 19 themselves in a posture where they have a fair 20 share number of eighteen hundred or whatever it is 21 in Franklin -- and I am unaware of the number -- 22 which has totally been unaddressed by the municipality, 23 I don't think that they have the right to complain 24 that that fair share number may be divvied up among 25 a class of plaintiffs who the Court, Supreme Court,

1 wanted to be encouraged to litigate.

2 There's no way for the Court to know how 3 many of those plaintiffs would be able to survive 4 the litigation at -- this lengthy litigation; to 5 foreclose one or two or three or four of them in an 6 step along the way, until the litigation is finalized, 7 may well be a serious mistake.

8 You may be foreclosing the ones that would 9 pursue it, and granting it to ones who, six months 10 from now, disappear for financial reasons.

11 I mean, there's so many possibilities here, 12 you know, that have to be protected in order to 13 guard the Mount Laurel mandate, that I think it 14 should be under the most extreme circumstances, and 15 I think the Court pointed out what they would be, 16 that the Court would foreclose a builder from moving 17 forward toward the builder's remedy stage of the 18 litigation.

19 On the other hand, I do think that there does 20 come a point in time in the history of litigation 21 when plaintiffs are entitled to know that, that 22 there is a halt and call to intervention and con-23 solidation; and that's something which should 24 probably be well-briefed by people at the appropriate 25 time for the Court, and for the Court to articulate

1 at a certain point in the history of the litigation
2 when that point has come, and when others who bring 3 Mount Laurel litigation will just have to await the 4 resolution of the case that's before the Court.

5 I think it's going to be raised, I am sure 6 it's going to be raised in the Monroe case at some 7 point, as to what the rights are of those parties 8 who have been granted intervention or consolidation 9 vis-a-vis other landowners in a municipality who 10 haven't sued.

11 I would just like to, in closing, just speak 12 a little bit to the history of my client's involve-13 ment in the town.

14 I am hearing an argument, I believe, by 15 Mr. Moran, that my client did not do enough and 16 that, at some point in time after 1976, it should 17 have come back again, and maybe again and maybe 18 again, to the municipality, having received cor-
19 respondence from the municipal attorney that, no, 20 we understand you have an application, you have had 21 your application, you know, for seven years, before 22 Mount Laurel I was even brought, my client had an 23 application to this municipality for this type of 24 relief, that in some way, they're foreclosed from 25 a builder's remedy now because they didn't do

1 something.

2 And I would say that would be really an extra-3 ordinary thing to bring back to the client at this 4 point, that having been proposing this type of use
5 before 1970, in fact, and having litigated the issue 6 of the moratorium, and having litigated it until the 7 Urban League brought their action prior to the 8 builder's remedy, having undertaken this -- these 9 actions, having sought a resolution of need to be 10 adopted by the municipality, having struggled with 11 the municipality to get it to provide for regional 12 housing needs and local needs, having jeopardized 13 its own ability before the municipality by represent-14 ing itself publicly to be that landowner who is 15 pursuing low and moderate income housing in the 16 municipality for years, and having litigated shortly 17 after the rezoning, albeit not within forty-five 18 days, which is totally irrelevant, to be told now 19 that it didn't do what it was supposed to have done
20 to give it standing or to say that it hasn't -- it 21 didn't threaten the municipality in some way, I 22 think is really a totally unacceptable argument by 23 the Township.

24 The Township has to be estopped from even 25 pursuing those arguments. It has constantly been

1 using the fact that it's going through its master
2 plan process as a justification for not meeting
3 with builders. It has used with my client the fact 4 that it was in litigation as a reason not to dis-
5 cuss specific developments with builders.

6 The mayor himself took the stand and stated,
7 "We didn't respond to the Toll Brothers application," 8 not because he didn't like the letter. He could 9 have said that. Not because he was upset with the 10 letter. He could have said that. And those are 11 probably reactions that he and the Township had.

12 He testified that he did not respond to that 13 application because they were in litigation. They 14 were already in litigation. And the fact that the 15 municipality is already in litigation is a major 16 fact, I believe, of a major significance for the 17 Court in this context, from the developer's point 18 of view, from the builder's point of view.

19 The municipality's already in litigation.
20 It's already fighting, and it hasn't rezoned. It 21 could rezone at any time.

22 The -- Cranbury could have rezoned in 1977, 23 and it didn't. And builders and landowners have 24 known that all along, and know the doctrine as 25 enunciated in Mount Laurel II with regard to this

1 municipality.

2 It's remanded back to this Court for this 3 municipality, and this municipality adopts the 4 ordinance that it chose to adopt, in what would 5 appear to be relatively flagrant violation of Mount 6 Laurel rulings that its own -- of the Court's 7 ruling, since its own planner testified that it was 8 adopted in response to Mount Laurel I and not in 9 response to Mount Laurel II.

10 To say that builders should be prevented 11 from moving forward when there's ongoing litigation, 12 and trying to join that litigation to present their 13 claims in light of the municipality's record, really 14 would be contrary to, I believe, the letter of the 15 Opinion.

16 We do have in the Opinion itself an example 17 of the Court dealing with a developer coming in 18 within the context of existing litigation. The 19 Supreme Court has dealt with that issue and accepted 20 that developer and gave that developer a builder's 21 remedy.

22 There's no -- there's nothing in the facts
23 in these cases which would justify Roger Davis get-24 ting a builder's remedy in Mount Laurel and these 25 plaintiffs not being entitled to go forward with a

1 builder's remedy in this case. Thank you.

2 THE COURT: We'll take fifteen minutes.

3 (Whereupon a recess was taken.)

4 * * * *

5 THE COURT: Mr. Warren? You wish to be 6 heard? I mean, are you -- fools rush in where 7 wise men fear to tread, or something like that.

8 MR. WARREN: I'll try and compromise and be 9 brief, Your Honor.

10 In light of Mr. Moran's presentation, I spoke 11 with him during a previous break, and he confirmed 12 that Garfield and Company is not the subject of his 13 motion, as indeed I think he would have to in light 14 of the fact that the affirmative defenses which 15 provide the basis for the motion were never raised 16 with respect to Garfield and Company.

17 The only comment I'd like to make in light 18 of that, therefore, is pick up on something that 19 Mr. Herbert said. He said that Garfield and Company 20 is proud, and rightly so, of having initiated this 21 litigation among the builders, builder-plaintiffs, 22 first.

23 And, Your Honor, that's quite correct. We 24 are proud that we were the first builder-plaintiff
25 to come in and analyze the zoning ordinance, proposed

Township Committee and, in general terms, explained to the Township Committee the problems with the ordinance which related to the Mount Laurel housing to be built in the PD-HD zone. And when the Township Committee nevertheless passed the ordinance, Your Honor, we are proud that we came in within the forty-five-statutory-day period for prerogative writs and brought this action as the first builder's remedy so as not to in any way delay this remanded action.

And so to that extent, I certainly agree with Mr. Herbert. Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Payne.

MR. PAYNE: Your Honor, I, too, will be brief, because despite what Mr. Bisgaier seemed to say a moment ago, this is not the Urban League's motion; this is Mr. Moran's motion, and I think the position that we stated in our letter brief made available this morning emphasizes that, for the most part, we do not support Cranbury Township's position this morning.

We have not supported Cranbury with respect to the exhaustion argument, and I want that emphasized,

1 because it perhaps wasn't attended to quite as 2 clearly in our brief, that we do not support Cranbury
3 with respect to the argument concerning good faith 4 and prior negotiations, at least in the context of 5 this litigation.

6 The language that the Supreme Court has given 7 to us to work with is, unfortunately, very ambiguous
8 as to all of this. It's the Urban League's position 9 that, with respect to the activity of the four 10 builders present in court here, that the ongoing 11 process of litigation, the remand from the Supreme 12 Court, the Township's articulated position with 13 respect to the litigation, would have made it wholly 14 futile for any of the builders to have thought it 15 appropriate to undertake extended negotiations with 16 the Township in the context of specific proposals.

17 Now, I can't say with confidence what the 18 situation as to that requirement may be some months 19 or years hence. As we gain more experience with 20 post-Mount Laurel II procedures in these situations, 21 it may well be, and I would hope that it would be, 22 the case that towns would be sufficiently open and 23 aware and cooperative in their sense of obligation 24 to meet the Mount Laurel II mandate, that it would 25 be fruitful to sit down with detailed proposals and 1 work them out in advance.

2 But with all due respect to Mr. Moran's 3 position, that certainly is not the case with 4 Cranbury under the present circumstances.

5 Our agreement with the Township's position
6 is on the very narrow point of the so-called threat 7 exception to the entitlement to builder's remedy.
8 And even with respect to that, I believe our position 9 is an extremely narrow one.

10 We ask simply that there be some prior ex-
11 pression by the builder-claimant of a commitment 12 to the Mount Laurel purpose in order to proceed be-13 yond the threshold stage.

14 There obviously is a long process ahead in 15 terms of priorities amongst competing builders, 16 problems of suitabilities, finding an appropriate 17 time in the course of litigation to cut off further 18 motions for consolidation or whatever.

19 Those issues are before the Court. They 20 obviously will have to be resolved, but we would 21 suggest to you, Your Honor, for the reasons you have 22 already indicated, that our concern is with the 23 overall health of the Mount Laurel doctrine, not 24 with the Township's position, not with the builders' 25 position, but that it can become, over the long haul,

1 a workable means to achieving the ends that the 2 Supreme Court has articulated.

3 And we do believe that that requires some 4 minimal commitment in the form we have suggested, 5 as a rebuttable presumption, which I would emphasize 6 in this case we think might be rebutted.

7 We have not had access to the letters. We 8 have not had access to the conferences or other 9 communications between the builder and the Township 10 that might show a different context than appears 11 from the stipulation. But we do believe that that 12 minimal showing was what the Supreme Court had in 13 mind when it required that non-Mount Laurel zoning 14 purposes not lay behind -- lie behind a piece of 15 Mount Laurel litigation.

16 It seems obvious that under almost any con-
17 ceivable circumstances, the smoking gun of an overt 18 threat would be avoided; therefore, there has to be 19 a somewhat more sophisticated inquiry into what the 20 context of the relationship between the Township and 21 the developer may be, if that language is to have 22 any meaning.

23 THE COURT: Where does the Court go with 24 drawing the line here as between Toll Brothers, 25 which deems it necessary under the decision to write

1 a letter, and writes a letter which it probably 2 knows is going to be fruitless and, if you want to 3 take Mr. Moran's argument, was intentionally framed 4 that way, so as to evoke a negative response, and 5 Zirinsky, who says, I give up, I've been trying to 6 develop my land, I know I'm not going to get what 7 I want, and if I write a letter, it's probably going 8 to look like a threat if I say, okay, you didn't 9 give me OR or whatever the designation is, office-10 research, and I now write and say, I now want to 11 talk to you about Mount Laurel?

12 It's not the smoking gun, but one could 13 certainly imply a threat from that. And so Mr. Zirinsky 14 says, rather than get myself into that, I'm just 15 going to start suit, and I have this land here, I've 16 got an option on it, and I'm willing to build Mount 17 Laurel.

18 And maybe with Mount Laurel, I can convince 19 the Town to also let me have some commercial.

20 Which is more offensive?

21 MR. PAYNE: Do I have to choose, Your Honor?

22 THE COURT: Okay. Which is the more violative 23 of the Mount Laurel doctrine? I didn't mean of-24 fensive in terms of the tenor of the approach, but 25 in terms of the doctrine itself.

1 MR. PAYNE: They're different problems, Your 2 Honor. As we have indicated, we don't wish in any 3 sense to suggest that the Toll Brothers approach is 4 one that we would encourage. Far from it. But on 5 its face, tone and style apart, we believe that it 6 meets the requirements that the Supreme Court has 7 set out at the threshold for the claim of the 8 builder's remedy.

9 As to Mr. Zirinsky's situation, I fully 10 agree that once the initial non-Mount Laurel offer 11 has been put on the table, it is increasingly dif-
12 ficult for the builder to switch gears, to make a 13 Mount Laurel claim, without suggesting the implicit 14 threat.

15 That's why I believe our bottom line position 16 is that the offer should be made up front and at 17 the outset. And as I indicated in our brief, we 18 think that's to the good, that it encourages builders 19 who see the potent weapon here in Mount Laurel to 20 think through the Mount Laurel possibilities from 21 the outside, to frame it, to offer it, and stick 22 with it thereafter.

23 THE COURT: But what's wrong with somebody
24 in the Zirinsky situation, who sees the handwriting 25 on the wall, he's negotiated, attempting to get what

1 he wanted, and had no interest in Mount Laurel at 2 all, which I think I can fairly say may be the 3 typical builder in the State of New Jersey, and he 4 sees the Township adopt a zoning ordinance which 5 doesn't coincide with what he wanted, he sees the 6 fact that there's not going to be any likelihood of 7 him ever getting it, in light of the manner in which 8 the western half of the Town is zoned; is he to be 9 barred from changing his mind because he chose the 10 use most desired to him?

11 He is at that point -- what's he supposed to 12 do, get rid of the land, sell off his options, or 13 sell off the land he owns? Or can he not say, well, 14 I know that I'm never going to get my primary goal, 15 but there's one use that I might be able to get 16 that's economically desirable to me and, from the 17 standpoint of the likelihood of success, perhaps 18 more achievable; I may not be able to demonstrate 19 that the Cranbury ordinance is arbitrary and 20 capricious in excluding office-research, but in 21 light of the dictates of Mount Laurel, it may be 22 improper?

23 Can't he change his mind without having that 24 be deemed bad faith or a threat?

25 MR. PAYNE: Of course he can change his mind,

1 Your Honor, but it's the builder's remedy that we 2 are talking about, not the use of his land, not the 3 ultimate relationship between any builder and any 4 township.

5 Indeed, I think it's entirely appropriate 6 that the existence of Mr. Zirinsky's options, the 7 possibility that some of those options may be con-
8 verted into ownership that could serve a Mount Laurel 9 purpose, be a fact that is considered by the Court, 10 by the master, by the process at some point in the 11 litigation.

12 The builder's remedy, as I understand it, 13 gives the landowner something more simply than the 14 ultimate possibility of using his land. It gives 15 him, to some degree, a pre-emptive right to use it 16 as against considerations of municipal preference, 17 as against considerations of the most desirable
18 planning criteria in a community.

19 Again, that's an issue that we haven't yet 20 faced, suitability, priorities amongst builders, 21 and so forth.

22 I don't for a moment wish to suggest that 23 the Zirinsky landholdings become irrelevant to this 24 litigation once this issue is faced; but even though 25 the builder's remedy has become, in the Supreme

1 Court's words, a routine rather than extraordinary 2 remedy in terms of availability, it still is an 3 extraordinary remedy in terms of the degree of dis-
4 regard that it allows of the municipality's general
5 control of its land.

6 I would submit to you, Your Honor, that 7 even the very brief history thus far of Mount 8 Laurel II makes it crystal clear that builders are 9 going to be forthcoming to claim the builder's 10 remedy. There seems to be no question about that, 11 and it's obvious that the Urban League type case, 12 which is primarily a public interest plaintiff, is 13 going to be a small part, if any part at all, of 14 future litigation.

15 That's why I think it's so important to 16 straighten out these remedies here, so that yes, 17 it's a hard case, it's a hard rule, but it does 18 not burden builders very strenuously, I would sub-19 mit.

20 THE COURT: Well, the question is whether a 21 ruling which would give the Court the option to 22 pick and choose, whether it be along the lines of 23 what Judge Skillman is reported to have done -- and 24 I say that because I don't know precisely the con-25 text within which he's ruled -- or the suggestion which would bringing suit, might then tend to detract from the argument which you have just made, that the builders are now actively coming to the Court, more than the Court would like to deal with, maybe, but they are actively pursuing those matters.

And that, of course, was, as I understand it, one of the primary purposes of the builder's remedy in the first place, as you are correct in saying, that the public interest groups are dropping out either because of independent reasons -- and with respect to the Public Advocate, I am informed that they are not pursuing any new litigation, and I think maybe that puts the statement mildly.

I have a rather strong feeling that we are not going to see any public interest groups in Mount Laurel litigation when these pending cases are completed. That may be an overstatement, but I think that probably is closer to the truth, so that a Mr. Zirinsky or whomever, viewing the potential that they can come this far and be knock out, is going to have to be leery about that.
They're going to have to read what some judge may

1 under similar circumstances.

2 And indeed, if the class action approach
3 is applied, it will mean the race to the courthouse, 4 the first guy there, and then the first one to 5 settle. I'm not sure how that equates to the public
6 interest in Mount Laurel.

7 MR. PAYNE: Your Honor, I share those con-
8 cerns. I think we're moving into the issues that 9 we have separately briefed on our priorities brief.

10 I would only suggest that, at this point,
11 that I think the timing considerations in this case 12 are perhaps unique. I would not want to argue 13 seriously as a general proposition that this is the 14 best or the clearest time to make this issue. It 15 has come up at this point. Your Honor has heard 16 argument on that previously, and has agreed to hear 17 it at this point.

18 I would submit that what is essential to the 19 health of the builder's remedy is out of this case, 20 I would hope, because there are public interest 21 plaintiffs present.

22 Certainly in some case in the very near 23 future, from yourself, from the other Mount Laurel 24 courts, a clear articulation of a set of ground 25 rules for the builder's remedy problem -- the

1 Supreme Court obviously has not faced the complexity
2 of the situation as it now appears.

3 I believe that once those ground rules are 4 articulated, as we argued in our priorities brief, 5 just as with any litigated issue, the parties can 6 cast their likely success at an early stage, even 7 if the ultimate decision is later on, and there 8 need not be an unnecessary burden on litigation.

9 We have to keep these cases open to builders.
10 Our position on the general issue, contrary to some 11 suggestions you asked about earlier, probably with 12 Mr. Bisgaier, is that we do not suggest that there 13 ought only be one builder, or that the builder's 14 remedy ought to be cut off at some point short of 15 the fair share obligation of the municipality.

16 We think the remedy ought to be generously 17 available, but it does, I would submit, need some 18 ground rules.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Paley, you want to be 20 heard?

21 MR. PALEY: Yes. Briefly, Your Honor, I
22 support the argument that Mr. Moran made as to his 23 position generally addressed to builder's remedy.
24 Obviously, I take no position with respect to the 25 specific plaintiff builders in this case whatsoever,

1 but I would add to the comments that Mr. Moran
2 made the following.

3 At page 279 of the Opinion, the holding of 4 the Supreme Court is, and I quote: "We hold that 5 where a developer succeeds in Mount Laurel litiga-
6 tion and proposes a project providing a substantial 7 amount of lower income housing, a builder's remedy 8 should be granted."

9 And then the Court goes on to have some ex-10 ceptions based upon environmental and planning 11 constraints.

12 Now, I think that there's two points in that 13 holding that should be stressed by the Court, first 14 of all, the words "where a developer succeeds."
15 In this particular case -- and whatever is going 16 to happen in the future will hapen, but in this 17 particular case, we have had the Urban League 18 prosecute this case aggressively through the con-19 clusion or the virtual conclusion of the trial, 20 where we are now.

21 They have been represented by able and 22 competent counsel. They have been assisted by the 23 Constitutional Law Clinic of Rutgers, the State 24 University, in their presentation. And they have 25 often argued applications before the Court, as

1 Mr. Payne just did a few moments ago, and that 2 there has been no shortage of strong activist
3 attitudes taken by the Urban League in this 4 particular proceeding.

5 I think, therefore, that it's not necessary
6 to have a general rule as to the role that public 7 interest litigators are going to take in the future.

8 But in this case, certainly, one can argue 9 that whatever results are achieved were achieved
10 primarily, if not exclusively, through the efforts 11 of the Urban League and Mr. Payne and his colleagues.

12 Secondly, the Supreme Court says, in the 13 quote that I just referred to, that the developer 14 must propose a project. Now, I'm not sure, of 15 course, exactly what the words "propose a project" 16 mean.

17 On page 330 of the Opinion, when addressing 18 this particular -- in the conclusion of their 19 general opinion, they refer to the fact that there 20 is to be a proposed project. And on page 331, they 21 use the term, "proposed development."

22 Now, I submit --

23 THE COURT: That's in the Round Valley case, 24 331.

25 MR. PALEY: Yeah, I believe that that's

1 correct. I'm sorry, Your Honor. I believe that 2 the use of those terms suggests something more than 3 a builder or developer standing up before a Township
4 Committee or Township Council or a Planning Board
5 and saying, I believe that your ordinance is un-6 constitutional, and I'm available to build Mount 7 Laurel housing.

8 Indeed, I can tell the Court that municipal 9 attorneys have been receiving correspondence on a 10 general basis from no attorney in this case, and 11 from no developer in this case, as far as I know, 12 from lawyers which state: We represent Mount Laurel 13 developers, and if you have a problem meeting your 14 fair share, just give us a call, and we'll happily 15 put you in touch with a developer who can come into 16 your town and meet your needs and satisfy Judge 17 Serpentelli.

18 THE COURT: It's worse than that. The 19 majority of the complaints filed in this court 20 never even tell me what is going to be built, the 21 nature of the building, nor the number of units in-22 volved.

23 We call on a regular basis, after the com-
24 plaint is received, and ask the plaintiff's counsel, 25 what is it that you are proposing, so we have some

1 idea of the magnitude of the proposal and the amount 2 of low and moderate housing to result from that.

3 And most of the time, the answer is: I don't 4 know. We'll have to get back to you.

5 MR. PALEY: Well, I think, Your Honor, that 6 it is incumbent upon anyone who seeks a builder's 7 remedy to have some specific plan or proposal.
8 Obviously, I would not argue that he needs site plan 9 approval, or that even that he has to file an appli-10 cation for site plan or subdivision approval with 11 the appropriate municipal agencies.

12 But something of detail should be presented 13 to a municipal agency, and discussion should ensue 14 before a developer-plaintiff should be entitled to 15 a builder's remedy. And I think that's what the 16 Court had in mind when they said, "Propose a pro-17 ject."

18 I also think that that kind of situation 19 avoids the problem that the Court pointed out in 20 colloquy with Mr. Payne, using Zirinsky just as an 21 example, where then you don't have to decide on the 22 fine line whether or not a developer who proposes 23 something other than residential housing, and sees 24 he's not going any place, you then have to judge the 25 good faith of his change of mind.

1 I think what has to happen is that some 2 specific project has to be submitted.

3 Now, just some general comments other than 4 that, on some of the argument that has taken place.

5 With respect to the position of plaintiffs 6 who have participated in the trial, and particularly 7 in this trial, I would argue that their participation
8 here, particularly in light of the Urban League's 9 participation, ought not to have any effect for good 10 or bad upon the decision of the Court.

11 The pretrial order that was entered in this 12 case made quite clear that it was only at a later 13 point in time that the right and entitlement of any 14 plaintiff developers to a builder's remedy was 15 going to be adjudicated. I don't think that anyone 16 was misled.

17 Any party, as has been pointed out, could 18 have brought an application before this Court to 19 resolve the question we are now talking about, or 20 the exhaustion of remedies question, or the stand-21 ing question, however that's characterized, at an 22 early point in this proceeding, and no one did.

23 The second point is that I believe Mr. Bisgale 24 made a point, when addressing this subject, when he 25 said: Aren't we told now that we didn't do what we

1 should have done then, if you accept Mr. Moran's 2 argument?

3 Well, of course, that's been the position
4 that all of the municipal defendants find them-
5 selves in. And I can recall some specific cross
6 examination, particularly from Mr. Warren, I believe, 7 to the effect that you municipalities have had ten 8 years in order to get your house in order and your 9 ducks in a row.

10 But, of course, Mount Laurel didn't come out 11 until January of 1983, after two and a half years 12 of consideration by the Supreme Court; and many of 13 us believe, those of us who represent municipalities, 14 who have taken steps to rezone, and who have taken 15 steps to promote high density housing, would argue 16 that we did so in good faith.

17 And while I am very much aware of the state-18 ment in Mount Laurel which says we don't really 19 address the question of good faith as far as the 20 municipalities are concerned, it's results that 21 count -- and that's a paraphrase, of course, but 22 I think that that's clearly what they say -- I 23 think that we find ourselves in the position of 24 appearing before this Court as the bad guys, despite 25 whatever efforts we may have made.

1 We are indeed the baby seals that this Court
2 alluded to earlier, and anything that this Court
3 can do to temper the blow I think is -- takes a 4 positive approach, especially in those municipalities
5 that have made some effort.

6 The last thing I want to say, Your Honor, 7 is, there's been talk here about the public interest.
8 And I'm somewhat sensitive to that term, because I 9 view my representation of the Township as being in 10 the public interest.

11 I represent 42,223 people, as of the 1980
12 census. Mr. Moran represents several thousands 13 of people in Cranbury.

14 To argue that the municipal attorneys here 15 representing townships and boroughs throughout 16 Middlesex County are not representing the public 17 interest is, I think, inappropriate. We represent 18 the public interest as much as the Urban League 19 does.

20 We may have a different view of where that 21 interest lies, but we certainly represent the 22 public interest far more than developers, builders
23 who come in and seek to develop lands for high 24 density, which happens to be coincident with high 25 profits.

1 And without addressing the motives of any 2 of the particular plaintiffs in this case, Your 3 Honor, it seems to me that one can conjecture that 4 the arguments that I hear would be substantially
5 different if the ruling in Mount Laurel was for low
6 density housing. We wouldn't be hearing the talk 7 about devotion to the public interest.

8 I wonder if any of the developers in any of 9 the cases before Your Honor has offered to take the 10 additional profits that are going to be generated 11 by the higher density housing and plow those ad-
12 ditional profits back to the municipality, to permit 13 the municipality to construct an infrastructure to 14 serve those houses.

15 They may be compelled to do so by way of 16 off-site improvements and so forth, to the extent 17 that Mount Laurel permits, but you don't hear any 18 of that.

19 It's -- that must be said at this point, 20 Your Honor, and when Your Honor considers the 21 question of who is entitled to a builder's remedy, 22 I don't believe that it's fair for Your Honor to 23 ignore the municipal interest. And I speak on be-24 half of Piscataway and baby seals everywhere.

25 THE COURT: Let me, just for the purposes of

1 the record, make it clear that there was an attribu-
2 tion to me of this baby seal language. The only 3 comment that I recall about it was my expressing my 4 distress with that kind of language, and I certainly 5 wouldn't want it to become mine.

6 MR. PALEY: May I -- I did not mean to sug-
7 gest that Your Honor had originated that comment at 8 all. Your Honor pointed out that that appeared in 9 a newspaper or magazine article, and merely reported 10 it.

11 THE COURT: And I think I commented that I 12 didn't approve of it.

13 MR. PALEY: That's correct.

14 THE COURT: Secondly, with regard to your 15 last argument, we can't forget the fact that the 16 Court has indicated that Mount Laurel litigation 17 must be profitable; otherwise, we are not going to 18 get builders in here.

19 I concede that there comes a point at which 20 the issue of profitability may be reached.

21 The third comment that I would make, and you 22 may wish to address yourself to it, and that is if 23 we define succeeding in litigation, how do we square 24 that with Mr. Davis's builder's remedy in Mount 25 Laurel? He didn't succeed in that case alone.

1 That case had been carried all that period of 2 time by a public interest group, and he got in on 3 the bandwagon, and the Court kind of just gave that 4 very short shrift.

5 It said: It's true that Davis is not a
6 typical plaintiff developer, and it could be argued 7 that the primary reason for granting a builder's 8 remedy wasn't present there. But they turned around 9 and said: There are really three reasons we are 10 going to give him the remedy.

11 And it seems to me that perhaps the third 12 reason was the most important, and that is, it's 13 time that something be done, and he was there to 14 do it.

15 Now, that leads me, then, to the question of 16 whether, in a -- even in a suit brought by a 17 public interest group, or a suit brought by one 18 builder in which other builders join, there isn't 19 value in that setting as opposed to a suit brought 20 by one single plaintiff.

21 Now, we have had four cases settled here
22 with the Urban League in which there's been no 23 builder. And we have, and we will, revised 24 ordinances which everyone hopes will result in 25 Mount Laurel construction. But we don't have before

1 us in any of those cases somebody ready, willing 2 and able before the Court to build, and upon whom 3 the Court can impose a condition of building.

4 The language of the Opinion would permit me
5 to say to Garfield and to Cranbury Land and to 6 Zirinsky and so forth: You get a builder's remedy, 7 but you get it done, or you lose it. You start 8 building within twenty-four months, or you're going 9 to lose it.

10 Isn't there the benefit of, which the Court 11 expressed in terms of builder's remedy, of getting 12 natural construction? Isn't that much more likely 13 where you have multiple plaintiffs than when you 14 don't?

15 MR. PALEY: Let me address the first point 16 first. With respect to the Mount Laurel case it-17 self, I think it's at least arguable that what the 18 Supreme Court intended to do was to reflect its 19 consternation with the fact that in the Mount Laurel 20 municipality, not one low income dwelling had been 21 zoned for, and they viewed the attempts on the part 22 of Mount Laurel to comply with even Mount Laurel I 23 as being specious.

24 And I believe that it's arguable that that's 25 why Mr. Davis succeeded to a builder's remedy and 1 was awarded a builder's remedy in that case.

2 Secondly, Your Honor --

3 THE COURT: You don't see that that might 4 be equally applicable here? Maybe not specious, 5 but Cranbury hasn't responded with a compliant 6 ordinance since 1976.

7 MR. PALEY: Well, I'll let Mr. Moran argue
8 those attempts that he feels that Cranbury has made.

9 THE COURT: No. He's conceded the compliance
10 issue first. Well, first Judge Furman decided that; 11 and then secondly, on revision, he's now conceded 12 that. So he -- the fact of the matter is that 13 Cranbury has not zoned in such a manner as to provide 14 for affordable -- or a realistic opportunity to 15 build affordable housing in -- well, we can take eight 16 years, if you want to start with Mount Laurel I.

17 MR. PALEY: Well, Your Honor, let me talk
18 about Piscataway for a moment, because the same
19 thing applies in Piscataway. We have one complaint 20 filed by a proposed builder. I would say that if 21 there were four or five --

22 MR. HERBERT: Excuse me, Your Honor. I
23 don't mean to cut off Mr. Paley. I apologize to 24 him, but in fairness, if Mr. Paley is going to 25 address the complaints that have been filed with

1 this Court by an adversary, is now going to 2 address that, and particularly in the context of 3 a motion brought by Cranbury, it might not appear 4 to be appropriate.

5 THE COURT: I don't know where you are going 6 with that.

7 MR. PALEY: I'll withdraw the comment.

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MR. PALEY: Had several complaints been filed
10 against Piscataway for seeking builder's remedy --

11 MR. HERBERT: Your Honor, the same objection.
12 I mean, perhaps I don't have standing to do it, but 13 Mr. Paley is alluding to a different circumstance 14 than that of which he's faced in an adversarial 15 context, with a client, with a party who is not 16 here in court to hear his argument.

17 THE COURT: Well, let me see where you are 18 going. Go ahead.

19 MR. PALEY: I would certainly think that 20 that might provide options to Piscataway to try 21 to resolve the matter with those individuals and on 22 those sites that Piscataway felt were appropriate 23 for development for low and moderate housing.

24 We don't have that situation in Piscataway, 25 because there's only one.

1 THE COURT: And it's after the fact, isn't
2 it?

3 MR. PALEY: Well, that's to be -- it certain-4 ly was filed after this trial started, and argument
5 on that will await another day.

6 But it seems to me, Your Honor, that my 7 point in addressing this particular motion is to try 8 and place the general municipal position in per-9 spective, that it doesn't necessarily mean, because 10 one builder files an action, that a lot of other 11 builders are going to run in.

12 With Piscataway, with the fair share number 13 for Piscataway, the consensus fair share number as 14 high as it is, and that being well published, does 15 the fact that we only have one developer who's filed 16 an action suggest that there is not demand for low 17 and moderate housing with the Township of Piscata-18 way? And is that something that the Court ought 19 to consider?

20 I don't think that the developers ought to 21 be the one who are going to be the judges of when 22 and where Mount Laurel housing is going to be built.
23 I think that's up to the Court. And following the 24 arguments that have been made by the plaintiff
25 developers here, and applying them to Piscataway

1 generally, I think that they would require that 2 the Court place too much discretion, if you will,
3 in the decision of any landowner to file an action 4 and to come into court. They know that they're 5 going to win.

6 And in this particular case, it's been the 7 Urban League and it's been the Court-appointed ex-
8 pert that has presented the bulk of the testimony
9 that the Court has been heard -- that the Court 10 has heard; it has not been the builders. Thank 11 you, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay, thank you. I am not going 13 to rule on the matter until I have received the 14 Zirinsky material. It's an extraordinarily diffi-
15 cult situation, as far as I am concerned.

16 Just in general terms, the interests being 17 weighed are what I perceive as a very strong policy 18 statement in the Opinion as to the liberality of 19 granting builder's remedies and the obvious encourage-20 ment for builders to bring suit, and the possible 21 undermining of the Mount Laurel principle should 22 the builder's remedy approach be modified, cut 23 back on, in any significant fashion.

24 The other side of the coin is fairness to 25 the Town, judicial efficiency, the need to conclude

1 Mount Laurel litigation as rapidly as possible, 2 and to get results.

3 And those two objectives have to be weighed.
4 I think that's all that I will say with regard to 5 it at this point, until we receive the letters.
6 When will I have those?

7 MR. MORAN: They will be mailed today, Your 8 Honor.

9 MR. HERBERT: The problem I had is that the 10 only copies I had I gave to Mr. Moran, and I didn't 11 realize that --

12 THE COURT: They're going to be mailed today?
13 Wouldn't it be easier to bring them in tomorrow 14 morning?

15 MR. MORAN: I hadn't planned on being here 16 tomorrow. I thought -- if you want me to, and if 17 Your Honor's going to rule at that time, I can come 18 back tomorrow.

19 THE COURT: It's all right now. If you're 20 not going to be here, that's okay.

21 MR. HERBERT: Your Honor, I could arrange 22 to, perhaps to have somebody pick them up at 23 Mr. Moran's office and have them here this after-24 noon.

25 THE COURT: As long as I have an opportunity

1 to read them, that's fine.

2 MR. HERBERT: That could be arranged as 3 soon as we conclude.

4 THE COURT: All right. What are we doing 5 next?

6 MR. MORAN: Your Honor, I believe, unless 7 I'm misreading things, that that essentially con-8 cludes Cranbury's participation in this phase of the 9 case, with the exception of the rulings that I have 10 asked Your Honor to make, and which you had indi-11 cated that you will make when you receive the docu-12 ments.

13 I believe that under the ruling in Mount
14 Laurel, the next phase of the case would be to re-15 mand it to the Planning Board with instructions to 16 rezone to accommodate a specific number of low and 17 moderate income housing units, with or without the 18 assistance of the master.

19 And Your Honor has indicated, although the 20 appointment of the master is optional in the Opinion, 21 Your Honor has indicated, I believe, on a few occasions, 22 your intention to appoint a master.

23 On the question of the appointment of a 24 master, I would -- I have two requests, and they're 25 not necessarily exclusive.

1 One is that Your Honor give consideration 2 to the appointment of a master whose background is 3 in land use planning and, secondly, that it may be 4 appropriate to use the same procedure that you used 5 when you appointed the Court-appointed expert, and 6 that is, you asked the parties to submit recommenda-7 tions, and you attempted to select from those recom-8 mendations someone that was acceptable to as many of 9 the parties as possible.

10 I realize that with the pool of experts that 11 we have in this case, the pool that remains avail-12 able may be somewhat limited.

13 THE COURT: Everybody's out of the pool. I 14 take it from what you say that you do not want to 15 have the present Court-appointed expert converted 16 into a master, if the Court chooses to select a 17 master.

18 MR. MORAN: I have reservations about that, 19 and the reason I do have reservations is because, as 20 I understand, although she's a licensed professional 21 planner, and this is nothing -- to take away nothing 22 from Ms. Lerman. I don't want to cast any doubt 23 upon her ability in her area of expertise.

24 But as I understand her background over the 25 last several years, it has been primarily in the 1 field of housing, as executive director of the 2 Housing Authority, with very limited involvement

3 of -- in land use planning at the municipal level
4 on a day-to-day basis, that's involved in the prepara-
5 tion of a master plan and the preparation of a zoning 6 ordinance.

7 And those are the reservations that I have.

8 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Warren?

9 MR. WARREN: Your Honor, before we get into 10 the next stage of the case, just so as the record
11 is crystal clear, I believe that all of the parties 12 in the Cranbury case agree to a stipulation on the 13 record that the builder's remedy plaintiffs were 14 willing to provide a substantial amount of Mount 15 Laurel housing which, of course, is one of the con-
16 ditions I don't believe has been put on the record
17 yet; and I'd just like to take this opportunity, 18 with the agreement of the Court, my co-plaintiffs 19 and Mr. Moran, to put that on the record with 20 respect to all of the builder's remedy plaintiffs.

21 THE COURT: And "substantial" is as defined
22 in the Opinion.

23 MR. WARREN: Yes, Your Honor, exactly.

24 THE COURT: Which is a minimum, and I under-25 line minimum, of twenty percent. All right.

1 All right, Mr. Moran. You want to leave,
2 I gather.

3 MR. MORAN: Well, Your Honor, as I under-4 stand, the next procedure that the Court is going 5 to go into is a compliance portion of the case with 6 regard to Piscataway, and I don't see any sense of 7 burdening the taxpayers of Cranbury with the expense 8 of having me sit through that.

9 THE COURT: All right. How about counsel
10 for the builders in Cranbury?

11 MR. HERBERT: Well, Your Honor, I'm sure 12 arrangements will be made to have the letters 13 delivered to the Court within a matter of an hour 14 or two; and assuming that occurs, I take it the 15 Court will be issuing some kind of decision.

16 And might I inquire as to what -- when that 17 would be, presumably tomorrow?

18 THE COURT: Either -- yeah, probably tomor-
19 row morning. That doesn't say you have to be here 20 if there's no other reason. What --

21 MR. MORAN: Do you intend to announce it 22 from the bench, Your Honor?

23 THE COURT: I would, yeah.

24 MR. MORAN: Oh.

25 THE COURT: What else do we have to do beyond

1 Mr. Nebenzahl?

2 MR. BISGAIER: Your Honor, we need at some 3 point a brief conference with you on Monroe.
4 Mr. Gelber and Mr. Mallach probably will participate.
5 It will be no more than five or ten minutes, just --

6 THE COURT: All right, we can do that during 7 the lunch hour, if you want to get out of here.
8 And then the other plaintiffs, I assume, don't want 9 to be around.

10 MR. WARREN: I wouldn't put it that way,
11 Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: I'd get out if I could. Well, 13 maybe the thing to do is to break now for lunch.
14 Let me take this Monroe conference. We'll start 15 with Mr. Nebenzahl at one-thirty. All right?

16 And I take it he will be the last witness.
17 Are we going to have anybody else?

18 MR. PALEY: Your Honor, Piscataway has one 19 other witness, which is a representative of 20 Rutgers, some of whose testimony may be able to be 21 stipulated to.

22 I haven't spoken with Mr. Gelber yet. He 23 will be brief. But Mr. Nebenzahl will certainly 24 take all of today and probably well into tomorrow.

25 THE COURT: All right. Let's meet on the

1 Monroe matter, and then we'll start on the Piscataway 2 portion at one-thirty.
