NOTE.

The following table enables the practitioner readily to find whether any given act has been included in the General Statutes, and, if so, on what page, and in what section it is to be found. The occasions for such a search are frequent, and the labor involved, without this table, is always of consequence, and sometimes very considerable. Such at least has been the experience of the subscriber, in the practice of his profession; and that experience led him to compile the table originally for his own use. It is now published, because it is believed that it will be useful to the bar generally.

The table hardly needs explanation, but it should be pointed out that the references in the margin of the General Statutes to "Rev." are to what is known as the Revision of 1874. These reference in this table are placed under the heading (Rev.); but a list of references to the Revision of 1877 has also been made by the compiler, and is included in the table under the heading, Rev.
